PRINCIPAL STREETS AND PLACES IN LONDON
AND ITS ENVIRONS, WITH THEIR POSTAL DISTRICTS.

167. THE Postmaster General, anxious to promote rapidity and correctness in the delivery of Letters, has, for postal purposes, divided London and its environs into TEN DISTRICTS, each to be treated, in many respects, as a separate town; and, to render this arrangement effectual, he earnestly requests that every means may be taken by the Public for causing Letters to be directed according to the District for which they are intended. The initials of the district, as shown in the following list, will suffice; and in the direction of a Letter these initials should be legibly written in a separate line, and should in all cases end the address, thus (the Eastern Central district being taken as an example):—

James Thompson, Esq.,
300, Cheapside.
E.C.

or, when the Letter is from the country, thus:—

James Thompson, Esq.,
300, Cheapside,
London.
E.C.

168. Among other means of inducing this practice, it is suggested that, when convenient, each Resident of a LONDON DISTRICT should add the name of the District, or the initials, to his own Address inside his Letters when writing to Correspondents, and on his Address Card. Also that, if in business, he should give the name or the initials in the heading of bills or invoices, in advertisements or placards, and on any article of manufacture which may bear his address.

169. Any correspondent who may not attend to the above arrangement, should be requested to observe it.

If the initial letters be thus regularly appended, the Post Office Department will be materially aided in its endeavours to ensure a rapid and correct delivery, and the Public will derive a corresponding advantage.*
