Foreword

In volume 4 we have brought together the special event postmarks of another ten years, from 1994 to 2003. And what a ten years they have been! Apart from what seems like a never-ending stream of stamp issues, which have attracted the largest proportion of 'specials', there have been Millennium postmarks, a Euro football cup, a Rugby World Cup, a Solar Eclipse, numerous cricket events and plenty of royal anniversaries, with inscriptions in Welsh, Gaelic, Latin and Hebrew, as well as English of course! For the thematic collector there are plenty of further topics represented - animals, scouting, railways, tennis, rugby union, rugby league and numerous military anniversaries, to mention just a few. Collectors are invited to scan the lists to find postmarks for their chosen theme.

Special event postmarks were once used at genuine post offices at actual events - that was up to the 1950's - but their use gradually changed from the 1960's to satisfy the needs of the philatelic or First Day Cover market, as the figures below show. Here are the overall statistics for our four volumes.

Volume	Years	No of Years	No of postmarks*	Average pa	% on stamp issue days^
1	1851-1962	112	656	6	8
2	1963-1983	21	5361	255	17
3	1984-1993	10	3181	318	41
4	1994-2003	10	5734	573	63

* Main listing only, excluding 'S' numbers and other 'first days'.

^ Excludes 'see also' entries, long-running items still in use.

Our volume 3 was produced in 1994. Then in 1996 we produced a new volume 2 completing the split of the previous edition into separate volumes. We are thus able now to offer all four volumes, giving collectors access to the whole listing of Special Event Handstamps from 1851 to 2003.

BRITISH POSTMARK SOCIETY

Registered as a charity No 1102748

The British Postmark Society caters for collectors of all types of postal markings but particularly those of the 20th/21st centuries. Included in the Society's aims are education and the dissemination of information, and an illustrated Quarterly Bulletin is produced, mainly from contributions of articles and news items from members. Additionally there is an annual sale and a postal auction and, for UK members, there is a good library, regular London meetings and three different circulating Exchange Packets.

1 Introduction

PURPOSE

A sponsor may pay a fee to Royal Mail to provide a special event postmark, to the sponsor's design, to mark an event, occasion or anniversary, with exclusions for religious, political and controversial messages. Collectors can send in their envelopes or postcards for stamping, or purchase special envelopes designed and produced by the sponsor. Royal Mail themselves provide a number of special covers, including some with coins or medals enclosed, on a similar basis. Occasionally these postmarks fulfil a postal need at real post office counters (such as at the Millennium Dome or the Wimbledon Tennis Championships); Royal Mail do not regard these as 'specials' (and consequently they are not announced beforehand) but we do, providing a special inscription is shown (ie not just the town), and thus they are included in our lists.

The word 'event' requires some interpretation. These days stamp issues are so popular that the majority of 'specials' are used on First Days, and there is really no event as such apart from the stamp issue itself. Related place-names and even names of roads or streets thought to be or sound relevant to the stamp issue have become the 'in thing'. Even postmarks that do mention events (eg Centenary of the death of Queen Victoria) are used on the relevant stamp issue date (in this instance 29 January 2001) rather than the correct date of the event (22 January 2001), such is the considered importance of the stamp issue date.

THEMATIC COLLECTING

It is arguable that there are too many 'specials' for collectors to acquire examples of them all. That, of course, is up to the individual collector! Collecting of specific topics, or 'thematic collecting', is easier to accept. One of our earlier volumes was criticised by a reviewer for not including a thematic index. Items can be included in more than one list (eg a church flower festival could be indexed under religion and also under flowers) and we would in turn criticise the reviewer for failing to understand the complexity of indexes and the considerable space such an index would take. Therefore we would recommend collectors examine the listings for the topics that appeal to them.

DATES OF USE

The dates of the postmark are left entirely to the sponsor. Thus if a cricket match may take 5 days (or perhaps finish early) or other sporting events or exhibitions may last several days, the sponsor may choose to use the postmark only on one day, possibly the first. The fee is slightly higher for a handstamp with a changeable date (ie for multiple dates), but for postmarks applied by the modern Pad canceller instead a different postmark 'face' is required for each date.

INSCRIPTIONS AND TOWN/COUNTIES

The inscriptions as shown in the listing are as close as possible to that shown in the postmark, with some abbreviation and subject to constraints of space. In this volume we have taken a firm line on addresses and we have added the post town in brackets where it was omitted from the postmark. Every address, and normally every postmark, has a post town and it seems strange that Royal Mail have authorised the production of special postmarks without one. Sometimes Royal Mail are the culprits themselves. For example the 'first day' handstamp on 4 July 2000 (listed as S335) was inscribed 'Killyleagh', omitting both the post town of Downpatrick and the county of County Down. Counties are more often omitted these days from addresses and postmarks, but we have added them to clarify the precise location (except for towns and cities, eg Bromley, Hounslow, Salford and Sunderland, that do not require a county in their addresses, these towns being from Royal Mail's published list).

Sometimes the postmark includes a wrong address, eg the correct address for Salford is Salford, Lancs (but the Lancs is not necessary), not 'Manchester' or 'Greater Manchester' as shown in 12574-6. We cannot change the wording of the postmark, only attempt to make clear what it should have read, eg Woodhall Spa Lincoln means TWO post towns were shown in 14164; quite misleading but less so if 'shire' is added to show Lincolnshire as the county (we have shown it in brackets as it does not appear as such in the postmark).

We have tried to adhere to the county changes that took place in 1996, thus since 1996 Dyfed addresses are shown as Cardiganshire, Carmarthenshire or Pembrokeshire (the old pre-1974 counties back in use), but we were caught out when some sponsors continued to refer to Dyfed.

ANNOUNCING SPECIAL EVENT POSTMARKS

Royal Mail's British Postmark Bulletin is available to collectors and it has done a valiant work since its introduction in 1971. In spite of guarantees that advance notice will be given for all special postmarks (and that postmarks will be refused if they do not conform to the relevant advance notice periods) failures to do so have continued throughout the period covered by this book. The most annoying examples of these are postmarks used on stamp issue days when, although time is given to collectors to send in their covers for backdating, the special Royal Mail envelopes are withdrawn from sale after the issue date, thus requiring collectors to stock unnecessary envelopes purely in case late announcements occur. In theory postmark backdating is not permitted but Royal Mail normally feels obliged to offer reposting facilities (see next section) where the announcement is late.

REPOSTING FACILITY

Collectors are permitted to send in their covers and postcards for stamping with special postmarks, and this facility is much appreciated by them. Since 1990 the task has been concentrated on to half a dozen or so Special Handstamp Centres around the country, though these offices forever seem to be swamped with work, and collectors have experienced irritating delays in the return of their items as a result. The good news is that (a) items can be sent 'on the day', thus first day covers can be prepared in advance and submitted on the issue date of new stamps, (b) outer envelopes may be provided so that the postcards or envelopes are returned to their owners with appropriate protection, and no additional postage is required on these return envelopes.

From 1 March 1994 'dual dating' was permitted by Royal Mail (but not by the Forces postal service, see below), with a second postmark (but no more) being added to the existing postmark on a card or envelope - though not two of the same date.

BRITISH FORCES POSTAL SERVICE

Most of our references are to Royal Mail, but the 'BFPS' is not to be forgotten. A series of 'specials' continued to be provided by BFPS, usually with a BFPS number and no location, this in the main being for security reasons. A reposting facility is provided, similar to that of the Special Handstamp Centres already mentioned, based at Inglis Barracks, Mill Hill, London NW7.

UNAUTHORISED POSTMARKS

We are always careful to ensure that the postmarks listed were genuine and were used only by Royal Mail or BFPS on mail that passed through normal mail channels (even if sent under cover). It is not difficult to make up what appears to be a postmark and to use it on covers that purport to be genuine. Sometimes this is done out of innocent ignorance of the regulations, but alternatively this can be done intentionally and consequently mislead collectors. An example is a series of RAF covers produced by the Joint Services Charities Consortium in the late 1990's. For more details see British Postmark Society's Quarterly Bulletin issues of April and October 2000.

PHILATELIC HANDSTAMPS

Handstamps that are used on a long term basis are provided by Royal Mail and are made available under the reposting facility (at the Special Handstamp Centres). These are either for tourist resorts (eg Giant's Causeway) or carry inscriptions of major towns and cities throughout the country. These are listed in Chapter 6 with 'Ph' prefixes.

Quite different are a pair of postmarks offered at the House of Commons post office, and listed in Chapter 6 as Ph.180. These were available from the day of the Opening of Parliament, 14 May 1997 (at the House of Lords also). The different attributes of these postmarks are that they are (a) applied 'on the spot' and not at the London Special Handstamp Centre, (b) applied only to the special envelopes on sale there (price £1.80 each), (c) not confined to first class mail, and (d) only available on covers posted 'in person', there being no reposting facility. Fortunately, even though visitors are subject to a security check, the House of Commons post office is accessible to the public.

COLOURS

Special event postmarks have been applied from time to time in a variety of different colours other than the standard black ink, but late in 2000 a scheme was launched by Royal Mail allowing sponsors to have, at extra cost, their postmarks applied in colours other than black. The bad news for collectors was that the sponsors were allowed to have the chosen colour used exclusively on their covers, while collectors had to settle for black on theirs sent in for reposting, or pay a high price for a copy of the sponsor's cover. While this contravened earlier promises at the birth of the British Postmark Bulletin in 1971 that collectors would be able to send for all postmarks, these guarantees made no reference to colour, as such a scheme had not been envisaged at that time.

Royal Mail were culprits themselves, with, for example, two different commemorative coin and banknote covers issued in June 2001 marking the centenary of Queen Victoria's death and carrying the two different postmarks applied exclusively in gold, but only being available to collectors at up to £49.95 each! These coloured postmarks are normally applied by Pad canceller.

SOUVENIR COVERS AND POSTCARDS

Where appropriate we make reference to the issue of Royal Mail commemorative cover and postcards, but where we use the words 'in conjunction with', the postmark is not confined exclusively to use on these covers or cards.

CACHETS

These are usually rubber stamps struck away from the stamps, such as at stamp exhibitions. They are beyond the scope of this catalogue unless applied by Royal Mail. Occasionally counter date-stamps which are not used for cancelling stamps (except for Special Delivery Items) can be used on request as a cachet (eg at the Wimbledon Tennis Championships).

STAMP ISSUE DAYS

Following the style of previous volumes, we have featured each stamp issue day with a 'box' to highlight the postmarks used on that day. We make no claim as to the relevance of the postmarks used, in fact some are clearly not related to the stamp issue in question. But we leave that for the reader to decide! These arrangements do not apply to the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man as it would unnecessarily complicate the listings.

'FIRST DAY OF ISSUE' POSTMARKS

These postmarks are applied only to covers bearing new stamps on their day of issue. Royal Mail arranges (usually) two pictorial postmarks for each issue, one at the Philatelic Bureau in Edinburgh and one at an 'alternative town', though both are available from the Bureau under its standing order service. The Philatelic Bureau postmarks are not listed in the main listing as each would appear as 'First Day of Issue British Philatelic Bureau Edinburgh' (the inscription changed in 2001 to 'Royal Mail Talents House Edinburgh' on moving to its new location) though each has a pictorial design element relevant to the stamp issue. The 'alternative town' is a location chosen by Royal Mail as being relevant in some way to the subject of the stamp issue. These are listed with 'S' numbers ('S' for 'special office') and are shown for each stamp issue, the numbers continuing from Twenty Years of First Day Postmarks (covering 1963-1983) then Volume 3 (1984-1993)

Other 'first day of issue' postmarks have not been listed in detail in this book as they remained largely unchanged from issue to issue (ignoring the change in 1999 since when the alphabetic month became numeric in most cases, eg '4' instead of APRIL – see 20.4.1999 example on the next page)

a) non-pictorial postmarks provided at up to 200 towns - these were struck by spring-loaded handstamp (cf Sp.R in later section) but the Windsor postmark was also struck by Pad machine. These postmarks ended with the rationalisation of first day postmarks at the end of 1998 (when about 160 towns were involved) and instead the 'alternative town' postmark mentioned above was used countrywide for each issue from the start of 1999 (though complicated in 1999 only by having a Welsh bilingual version for each issue regardless of the town being in England or Scotland!).

b) 'semi-permanent' pictorial postmarks used at Durham (from 1988 to 1998), City of London (shield design, used 1989 to 1998), Swindon (loco design, part of 1991 only), The Northern England Handstamp Centre Newcastle upon Tyne (bridge design, used 1992 to 1994), St Albans (Abbey design, used from 1995, and later replaced the non-pictorial design at St Albans, continuing to 1998), and 'Glasgow Scotland and N Ireland' (design showing Edinburgh Castle and Giant's Causeway, used from 1993 to 1995, followed by the flax and thistle design, used from 1995 to 1998).

c) by 1993 London had started the 'L' series, one for each stamp issue (with some repeats); this was followed in 1994 by Scotland's 'Sc' series (initially Ayr but later a town relevant to each stamp issue) and in 1997 by Birmingham's 'B' series - all 3 ended with rationalisation at the end of 1998.

d) definitive and 'country' issues - as with Volume 3, these are not shown where the postmarks are solely repeats of previous issues. In fact there were only three such issues in the period of this volume, the definitive issue on 25 June 1996 ('special' first day postmarks in use were S139 Windsor - used for definitive issues since 1985, L25 London, Sc4 Edinburgh), the 'country' issue on 23 July 1996 (first day postmarks in use were S142 Belfast, S143 Cardiff, S144 Edinburgh - these 3 used for country issues since 1986, Sc4 Edinburgh and L25 London, not L15 showing 'country' emblems as on previous country issues of 7 December 1993), and the Welsh country issue (without 'p' for pence) of 1 July 1997 (S143 was used at Cardiff). Additional non-pictorial first day postmarks were in use on each occasion, though for the country issues only a few English towns and cities were involved, plus relevant town and cities in the respective 'countries' of course.

OPERATIONAL POSTMARKS

Operational circular datestamps are outside the scope of this book since they carry no special inscriptions, but they are noted here as a series of them was made available for collectors under the reposting facility. The first example shown here is from Mount Pleasant (London). The second example illustrated here is from Travelling Post Office Section London. Specimens of this datestamp are not easy to find prior to 1 May 1994 when it was used solely at events (usually unannounced) visited by TPO staff, but it was made available to collectors under the reposting facility from 1 May 1994, but it ended on 9 January 2004. Similarly some rubber packet handstamps of towns in the Midlands were provided for collectors from 1 June 2001. See specimen from Stoke-on-Trent.

A series of philatelic handstamps was introduced in 1996 'for collectors who require an operational type datestamp'. These resemble SID handstamps but they are specially inscribed 'SHC' (Special Handstamp Centre) and they are listed in chapter 6 of this volume as Ph.123-137; the 'operational type' wording is arguably misleading. Illustrated here is a Heathrow Airport example.

Sp.R 'Special rubber' self-inking handstamp, this being the most common form of applying special postmarks for 30 years or so from the 1960's to the 1990's. Largely replaced by Pc. (see below) in the 1990's, though frequently a Sp.R was also used as a back-up, thus both are listed where known to have been used. However, handstamps requiring a changeable date continue to be Sp.R and these are of two designs, either with the date in the centre (see 'Stampex' example shown below) or at the foot (see Isle of Iona example); most of the 'philatelic handstamps' are of this style.

(two examples)

18 JAN '01

Sw (not illustrated) 'Swiss cancelling machine', operated by foot pedal and used largely in the 1970's and 1980's, the forerunner of Pc. (see below).

HSm (not illustrated) 'High speed machine' at the Philatelic Bureau, primarily for First Day Covers and others, such as coin covers; used since October 1985 for Standing Order FDC's, including the 'special/S' first day postmarks also cancelled at the Bureau. The postmarks are difficult to distinguish from Sw since grey in colour; later these were blacker and then difficult to distinguish from Pc (see below). Envelope handling and automated processes for affixing stamps, both adhesive and self-adhesive, at high speeds, were all developed alongside the stamp cancelling process.

Pc. (not illustrated) 'Pad canceller' was a machine introduced in 1992 and as will be seen in the main listings, superseded Sp.R and Sw, with a high quality black image, permitting postmarks of fine detail to be executed; also better at giving postmark impressions over the edges of stamps.

VALUATIONS

We have not attempted to put valuations on modern 'specials'. Valuations are largely dictated by the stamp(s) used and the special postcard or envelope involved. Thus a first day cover bearing a full set of stamps on a dealer's specially designed envelope may be worth £10-30, whereas the same postmark on single stamp and a plain white envelope might carry a valuation of 50p.

LATER YEARS AND ADDITIONAL REPORTS

We will be continuing with our Special Event listings for 2004 onwards in the Quarterly Bulletin of the British Postmark Society. Moreover, the compilers of this volume are always interested in hearing of unannounced or unauthorised postmarks, extended dates of use or Royal Mail cachets. Please write to the address shown on page 1.

BLETCHLEY PARK POST OFFICE

Bletchley Park have for some years been sponsoring special postmarks and these are listed in this volume. The 'Post Office' inscription was first used in postmark number 11957, and a note is included with this entry to show that it is not a 'real' post office. However, Bletchley Park have obtained permission from Royal Mail Milton Keynes to use their own postmark (with the 'Post Office' wording) on their pack of 'secrets' sent to collectors who apply for them. The rubber stamp postmark (type 'R') is shown here and it has been in use since January 1999, though it does not readily fit into any of our chapter headings. There are operational postmarks these days that are applied by senders (usually to large mailings) with Royal Mail permission, and in this respect the Bletchley Park postmark is not unique, but since its source is of a 'philatelic nature' we felt it deserved a mention here. Thanks are due to John Chapman of 'Station X Bletchley Park' for details and for sending a 'secrets' pack.

AMENDMENTS TO PREVIOUS VOLUMES*Amendment to Volume 2:*

A847 dates of use should read 10 - 14 Jun - delete probably.

Additional note to Volume 3:

A pictorial cachet was used on 17 January 1984 in conjunction with a limited issue Post Office commemorative cover for the official opening of the Carlisle Mechanised Sorting Office. The cover with the cachet continued in use for some months for presentation to visitors to the new office, cancelled with a Carlisle Cumbria packet stamp.

Unannounced postmarks for addition to Volume 3:

On 16 December 1994 British Forces operations in Berlin came to an end after 49 years. A special commemorative cover was issued by the British Forces Post Office to mark this historic event, to which was applied a 'BFPO Berlin 1' postmark, being a replica of the normal operational handstamp but applied by pad canceller. No prior notice was given of its use and no reposting facility was available.

On 21 December 1994 a very small number of commemorative covers was privately produced for the actual 150th Anniversary of the Rochdale Pioneers (the founders of the Co-op movement at Toad Lane Rochdale). These are known with an oval handstamp of that date marking the event, similar in design to the Royal mail postmark of 29 May 1994 (9170). However this was made and used unofficially and contrary to regulations by an individual collector in Rochdale.

6 Philatelic Handstamps

In this chapter we list the handstamps which are used at a particular location, usually over a prolonged period, rather than being associated with a specific event. All of these handstamps up to 1993 were listed in the relevant section of Volume 3, thus the initial pages here update that story, and the new items from 1994 are shown as Ph.115 onwards,

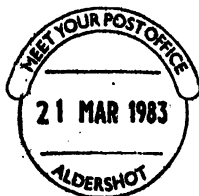

BORDERLINE CASES

(1) 'CODESORT COMES TO....'

There has been no further use of this type of handstamp since the publication of Volume 3.

(2) 'MEET YOUR POST OFFICE'

These are usually used to stamp souvenir covers for visits to sorting offices, thus they receive little publicity and the length of use is not known accurately. We feel it safe to assume most are used for a year or two at least. There have been three known further uses of this type of handstamp since Volume 3, as illustrated, at Aldershot seen dated 21.3.83, at (Middlesbrough) Cleveland dated 19.11.83 reading 'Meet Your Postal Service', and another at Ashford, Kent from 10.9.94 reading 'Meet the Royal Mail', replacing the previous 'Meet the Post Office' used from 1981. This is believed to have continued to 1998 when stamping of mail ceased at Ashford.

3) MARKETING PROMOTIONS

On page 156 of Volume 3 the reference to the K Blackburn (Kelloggs) postmark should be to number 7274.

PHILATELIC HANDSTAMPS

The listing of philatelic handstamps includes the Channel Islands (though no new entries included in this volume) and the Isle of Man (see Ph.122) and is arranged in chronological order of introduction. Where a handstamp of the same general design either replaces or supplements the original, though often short-lived before reverting to the original type, it is shown as a separate entry with a suffix number under the original number. However where a completely new design is introduced, this is shown as a new entry with a cross-reference to the old. In this way changes of handstamp at a particular location can be followed.

Most philatelic handstamps are associated with Philatelic Counters or large offices. Some Philatelic Counters were renamed 'Collections' in 1989, later 'Post Shops' and 'Post Shops Plus', but these terms have never appeared in philatelic handstamps. Other locations, such as Tower Hill (Tower of London) and Giant's Causeway, are referred to as 'tourist handstamps'. Items for reposting for any of these can be handed over the counter or posted in special posting boxes if provided or, more normally, sent to the relevant Special Handstamp Centre. The appropriate postage still has to be affixed (since 1991 no fee has been required but items must carry first class postage) in a manner similar to covers submitted for special event postmarks. An exception was Haroldswick, where the philatelic handstamp appeared to be used alongside the normal operational handstamp for cancelling mail, and the special handstamp fee did not seem to be enforced there.

From 1991 philatelic counter handstamps and most tourist handstamps were moved to the Special Handstamp Centres, so the facility of collectors having their covers stamped 'on the spot' and handed back was no longer available. At Heathrow Airport the handstamps had been removed from the passenger terminals to the Head Post Office (Hounslow and later Twickenham) some years earlier, but this handstamp too (only one was then required) ended up at the Special Handstamp Centre.

AMENDMENTS TO VOLUME 3 LISTINGS ARE AS FOLLOWS:

- Ph.8A BRIGHTON/EAST SUSSEX
Earlier/later dates than shown in volume 3; earlier 20.9.76 and latest 4.1.92
- Ph.18 HEATHROW AIRPORT/LONDON-HOUNSLOW MIDDLESEX-
Later handstamps were 27mm or 29mm diam. Withdrawn 9.4.00. Impressions of 1.3.00, 2.3.00 and 9.4.00 were from a fixed-date Pad canceller, the foils for which were made from a none too sharp impression of the normal Sp.R handstamp. It is believed to be the first time such a technique has been employed. The result was not as sharp as a normal Pad postmark.
- Ph.20 NATIONAL POSTAL MUSEUM/LONDON EC1
Produced by postmark type Sp.B (see page 9). The Museum was closed, awaiting relocation, on 24 December 1998 although the postmark remained in use to 13.4.01, applied at the London Special Handstamp Centre.

Ph.138 GIANTS CAUSEWAY/NORTHERN IRELAND/BUSHMILLS (Co Antrim)

Introduced 31.5.96 UFN, showing basalt columns. Circular 32mm diam with date offset below. Apostrophe missing from Giant's. Two handstamps used, one at Scotland & NI SHC, Glasgow, one at the local Visitor Centre PO, the latter having hexagonal frame 41 x 40mm with different style date figures from unframed version at the SHC. Not officially announced until August 1996 when backdating permitted on items sent to the SHC. After a fire at the Giant's Causeway Visitor Centre in April 2000 the locally applied handstamp ceased to be used on closure of the PO. Struck in silver on 24.9.02 by Sp.R at the SHC.

The following series of 41 handstamps are of the same type as earlier philatelic counter postmarks. They were all introduced on 18.3.97 UFN and are circular, 31mm diam, with date offset below. Each is inscribed ROYAL MAIL plus the place-name and depicts a local landmark, most of which are repeated from the postmarks they replaced (last used 17.3.97). They are held at the relevant Special Handstamp Centre. Some later replacement handstamps vary in size from the original versions.
