TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the session of Parliament holden in the 3rd and 4th years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter 96, for the regulation of the duties of postage, it was provided that all letters and newspapers and other printed papers, which should be posted in any town or place within the United Kingdom, or should be brought from parts beyond the seas to any port or place within the United Kingdom, or should be sent by the post between the United Kingdom and places beyond the seas or between any of the other places thereafter mentioned, or should pass through the United Kingdom, should be subject to the several regulations and rates thereafter contained, and that letters transmitted by the post should be charged by weight according to a certain scale and numbers of rates of postage to be charged as therein mentioned, and power was given to Her Majesty's Postmaster General to charge on all letters conveyed by the post between places within any of Her Majesty's colonies, or conveyed by packet-boats between one part of Her Majesty's dominions and another part of the same dominions, or between Her Majesty's dominions and foreign parts, or between one port in any foreign country and another port in the same or any other foreign country where post communications should be established, and also to charge on all letters conveyed by any vessels to or from any of the colonies, or between any of the colonies, or between any of the colonies and a foreign port, and on all letters which should be brought by the master of any vessel to the post office in any of the colonies, such rates of postage as the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by Warrant under their hands should from time to time direct. And to charge for the use of Her Majesty on all letters sent by the post on which the postage should not be prepaid, and which should not be duly and properly stamped, and also on all letters sent by the post without being duly and properly stamped, although the postage thereon should be wholly or in part prepaid, such higher rates of postage than would otherwise by law be payable on such letters as the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by Warrant under their hands should from time to time deem expedient, and power was also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury from time to time by Warrant under their hands to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage or Inland postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant, and from time to time, by warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to appoint at what time the rates which might be payable were to be paid, and the power thereby given to alter and fix rates of postage was to extend to any increase or reduction or remission of postage,

And whereas, by another Act of Parliament, made and passed in the session of Parliament holden in the 10th and 11th years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter 85, for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post Office, further powers were given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and (amongst other things) power was given to the Postmaster General to collect and receive the foreign and colonial postage charged or chargeable on any letters sent by the post, and also with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, to require the postage (British, Colonial or Foreign) of any letters sent by the post to be prepaid, either in money or in stamps (as he might think fit) on the same being put into the Post Office, and also with such consent to abolish or restrict the prepayment in money of postage on letters sent by the post, either altogether or on certain letters, and to require the prepayment thereof to be in stamps, and to refuse to receive or send by the post any letters tendered contrary to any regulations made under that enactment. And power was also given to the Postmaster General and any officer of the Post Office to detain any letters which should be posted or sent by the post contrary to the regulations therein mentioned, and to open such letters, and either to return them to the senders thereof, or to forward them to the places of their destination, charged in either case with such rates of postage as the Postmaster General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, should from time to time direct.

And whereas, by the first hereinbefore recited Act, certain rates of British postage were fixed, and since the passing of the said two recited Acts, and by virtue thereof, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury have, from time to time, by divers warrants under their hands, fixed, made and established certain other rates of British postage, to be paid and payable on the transmission by the post of certain colonial letters therein respectively mentioned, and it is expedient that certain of the said rates on certain of the said letters should be altered, and certain other rates made and fixed in lieu thereof, and that certain other regulations should be made, and for that purpose that certain of the said former rates, and also that certain of the said warrants, should be wholly, and certain other of the said warrants should be in part repealed and annulled in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Now we the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the power or authority in us for that purpose vested, in and by the said hereinbefore recited Acts of Parliament, or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do, by this warrant (under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners, by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided) order, direct, and declare as follows.

1. On every letter not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight transmitted by the post between the United Kingdom and the British West Indies, direct or through any British colony or foreign country, and conveyed by British packet-boat, there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters an uniform rate of British postage of eleven pence.

payable by law on such letters, an uniform British rate of postage of one shilling.

6. On every letter not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between any of the said places enumerated in the next preceding clause of this Warrant, and any of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdom, direct or through any British colony or foreign country, (the sea conveyance between any of the said places enumerated in the next preceding clause of this Warrant and the United Kingdom, being by British packet-boat,) there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters a like rate of British postage of one shilling, for the conveyance of every such letter between any of the said places enumerated in the next preceding clause of this Warrant, and any part of the United Kingdom. And for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom, of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same, and the British colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, such a further or additional rate of postage as shall from time to time be charged and payable for British postage on letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom, of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same, and transmitted between such port, and any such British colony or foreign country, provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services, there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny in respect of the inland conveyance under this clause, of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

7. All such respective letters so transmitted as is mentioned in this Warrant, if exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, shall be subject to the several further and additional and progressive rates of postage hereinafter mentioned (that is to say):

10. If any letter shall be posted in the United Kingdom addressed to any place in the British West Indies, or if any letter shall be posted in any place in the British West Indies addressed to the United Kingdom, having thereon or affixed thereto a postage stamp or stamps, the value of which shall be less in amount than the rate of postage to which the same would be liable, under or by virtue of the provisions of this Warrant, every such letter shall be charged with the amount of the difference between the postage paid thereon, and the postage to which it would have been liable, under or by virtue of the provisions of this Warrant, if the full amount of postage payable thereon had been paid when posted, together with the further and additional rate of postage of one shilling when conveyed by British packet-boat, and with the further and additional rate of postage of three pence when conveyed by a vessel not being a packet-boat.

11. In all cases where letters are posted in the British West Indies, addressed to any department or office in or connected with the public service of Her Majesty, which shall have a postage account with the General Post Office in London, it shall not be necessary that the postage thereof shall be paid at the time of the same being posted, and every such letter so posted in the British West Indies, addressed as last aforesaid, shall and may be forwarded to the place of its destination without any additional rate of postage being charged thereon, although the postage shall not have been paid thereon at the time of the same being posted, and the postage thereof shall be charged in such postage account.
