  - (2) There shall be charged and paid on outgoing air parcels such rates of postage as the Postmaster General may fix not exceeding £2 per pound or £1 per half pound or fractional part of a pound or half pound (as the case may be) up to a maximum weight of 22 pounds.
  - (3) The Postmaster General shall publish from time to time in the London, Edinburgh and Belfast Gazettes or in such other manner as he may determine the several rates of postage payable under these regulations:
    - Provided that the rates of postage in respect of outgoing parcels to which these regulations apply which were in force immediately before the commencement of these regulations shall continue in force until superseded by rates fixed under this regulation, and shall take effect as if they had been fixed and published under this regulation.
  - (4) In any proceeding relating to the postage payable in respect of parcels transmitted under these regulations, the production of a copy of the Gazette stating the rate in question shall be conclusive evidence that such rate is the postage for the time being payable as aforesaid.

Prohibitions

- 4.—(1) Save as the Postmaster General may either generally or in any particular case allow, there shall not be conveyed or delivered by post any parcel of a description referred to in section 11(1)(a), (b) or (c) of the Act.
  - (2) Subject to the powers of the Postmaster General under regulation 10, there shall not be posted or conveyed or delivered by post any parcel:

         Provided that such narcotics may be sent for medical or scientific purposes to countries which admit them when sent for those purposes by parcel post;
      - (ii) any living creatures, other than bees, leeches and silkworms;

Limits of weight and size

Posting

- 8.—(1) All outgoing parcels shall be posted: (a) by being handed to an officer on duty at the counter of a post office designated by the Postmaster General for that purpose, on the days and within the hours during which such office shall be open to the public for the posting of parcels, or (b) (in circumstances in which the Postmaster General permits that mode of posting) by being handed to an officer of the Post Office for the time being authorised to receive parcels for the post otherwise than as aforesaid.

- (5) Parcels bearing the impression of stamping machines or intended for impression by stamping machines, and parcels on which payment of postage is denoted by a printed impression, or by an impression made by any other process authorised by the Postmaster General, shall be accepted only at such post offices, within such hours, and under and subject to such conditions and restrictions as the Postmaster General may consider appropriate.
- (6) The stamp or impression denoting payment of postage or fees shall be placed in such position on the parcel as the Postmaster General may consider appropriate.

  - (2) Any incoming parcel which is found when in the post not to comply with the provisions of regulation 4(2)(h) may if the Postmaster General thinks fit be delivered to the addressee subject to such charge as the Postmaster General may fix in the particular case, not exceeding the total of the charges which would have been payable in respect of each of the separate parcels or other postal packets contained therein if they had been posted singly without prepayment of postage in the British postal area addressed to the country or place of origin of the parcel.

Charges on incoming parcels

11. There shall be charged on an incoming parcel and paid by the addressee on its delivery the amount of any deficient postage and any fees and charges which are payable in respect of the parcel under the law or regulations of any part of the British postal area or any country or place from or through which the parcel has been transmitted but have not been paid.

  - (2) Where the sums due in respect of any such parcel, or of parcels on hand for delivery or return to the same person on any one occasion, amount to more than £20, the Postmaster General may give notice to that person accordingly and require that, before such delivery or return is effected, he should pay the amount due within such period and at such office as shall be specified in such notice.

Undeliverable parcels

- 14.–(1) Subject to the following paragraphs of this regulation, an incoming parcel which cannot be delivered, and an outgoing parcel which is received back from a country or place outside the British postal area for return to the sender in accordance with the relative postal arrangement and which cannot be returned to the sender, or in respect of which any sums due thereon under regulation 11 or regulation 12 have not been paid within such period as the Postmaster General may consider reasonable, may be dealt with or disposed of as the Postmaster General may think fit.
  - (2) Where an incoming parcel cannot be delivered as originally addressed, and in accordance with the relevant postal arrangement the sender has furnished the name and address within the British postal area of a substituted addressee, and the parcel is forwarded to the substituted address, there shall be charged on the parcel on its delivery all such sums as are referred to in regulation 11, and the following additional postage:

Compensation

21.—(1) If a parcel, or any article of pecuniary value enclosed in or forming part of a parcel, be lost or damaged whilst in the course of conveyance by post under the provisions of these regulations, the Postmaster General may pay such sum as he may think just to any person or Postal Administration, if in his opinion such person or Administration establishes a reasonable claim to compensation:

Provided that:

(a) in the case of an uninsured parcel the sum paid by way of compensation shall not exceed the sum appropriate thereto according to the scale set out in Part 2 of Schedule 2, having regard to the weight of the parcel;

- (b) in the case of an outgoing insured parcel, the sum paid by way of compensation shall not exceed the sum appropriate thereto according to the scale set out in Part I of Schedule 2, having regard to the compensation fee paid in respect of the parcel;

- (3) The decision of the Postmaster General on all questions arising between him and any person claiming payment in respect of the loss of or damage to a parcel, or of or to any article enclosed in or forming part thereof, shall be final and conclusive.

Redirection by the public

- 22.–(1) An incoming parcel may be redirected from its original address, or any substituted address, to the same addressee at any other address either within or outside the British postal area if (a) the parcel is eligible for transmission to the place of the new address and complies with the conditions applicable to such transmission and (b) the sender has not forbidden redirection by means of a note to that effect on the address side of the parcel in English or in any other language understood at the original delivery office.
  - (2) Subject to paragraphs (3) (4) and (5) of this regulation the person redirecting an incoming parcel shall pay additional postage thereon at the rate applicable to the transmission of a parcel of like weight posted in the British postal area to the country or place (whether within or outside the British postal area) to which the parcel is redirected.
  - (3) An incoming parcel may be redirected to an address within the British postal area or the Republic of Ireland without prepayment of the additional postage if (a) the parcel does not appear to have been opened or altered otherwise than by the substitution of a new address, and (b) the name of the addressee has not been obscured by any adhesive label used to indicate the new address. On the delivery of such parcel within the British postal area the addressee shall pay additional postage at the rate appropriate under paragraph (2) of this regulation, and the Postmaster General may withhold delivery of the parcel unless the additional postage is so paid.
  - (4) The Postmaster General may (without prejudice to his general power of remission under regulation 26) remit the additional postage payable under paragraph (2) of this regulation if (a) the parcel is re-posted on the day of its delivery at the address from which it is redirected or on the next day following (Sundays, Christmas Day, Good Friday, and public holidays being disregarded for this purpose), (b) it is redirected to an address served from - the same delivery office as the address from which it is redirected or to an address in the same town delivery area, and (c) it conforms with the conditions specified in paragraph (3) for redirection without prepayment of postage.

- (5) An incoming parcel redirected to an address outside the British postal area other than in the Republic of Ireland shall be re-posted in accordance with regulation 8; and if such parcel is posted without prepayment of the additional postage the Postmaster General may treat it as a parcel which cannot be delivered unless he is satisfied that the additional postage will be paid on delivery of the parcel.
- (6) An incoming insured parcel which is redirected to a new address within the British postal area or the Republic of Ireland will be accepted for transmission as an insured parcel only if the parcel does not appear to have been opened and it is re-posted without any additional cover by being handed to an officer on duty at the counter of a post office designated by the Postmaster General for the purpose.
