Foreword

Collecting slogan postmarks is only one facet of the postmark collecting world. However the variety, interest and fascination for the collector is never ending. Whether the collector's interest is by subject - royalty, sport, transport and postal mechanization are but four - or by region, or whether he wants to collect merely those that come to hand, or even the whole lot, the scope is there.

This volume provides full details of all British slogan postmarks that were first used or were re-introduced during the 1970s. Major events in postal history occurred during this decade - the 1971 Postal Strike, "new counties", completion of the postcoding exercise nationwide and progress with postal mechanization. All had their impact on the slogan story. Section 4 of this volume tells this story in rather more detail.

We have completely revised the listings first included in earlier volumes covering the years 1970-75 and we present one united volume covering the 1970s. We have included all the slogans used in the Channel Islands and in the Isle of Man since their respective postal administrations became independent of the British Post Office. Thus, this book includes a vital part of the story started and continued in its two companion volumes :

"Collecting Slogan Postmarks" (published 1986)
(which includes listings up to 1969)

"Slogan Postmarks of the Eighties"
(due for publication in 1990)

New features in this volume include "early and late use" information and a new look at the valuation of slogans. We sincerely hope that we have produced a definitive listing of the slogans of the decade. To this end we have put considerable effort into recording what we have seen and into corresponding with post offices countryside, many of whom have been most helpful. We take this opportunity to record our thanks both to collectors, friends and to Head Postmasters and their staffs whose contributions have helped us to complete this work.

1 Introduction

By slogan postmark we mean any specially engraved die fitted to a Post Office stamp cancelling machine in order to "get a message across". Thus a slogan postmark is a form of advertising. The message can be from the Post Office, or a sponsor can pay for the privilege of using this type of advertising. In later paragraphs we enlarge on this definition. However, in this context, we do not include commercial advertising or the partisan type of messages that one would associate with a political party, for example, since the slogan would normally be applied to all the mail from one or many towns.

However, in 1963 a change of Post Office policy allowed the introduction of the Local Publicity slogan in order to advertise a locality. There were so many of these used in the 1960s that we have listed them in a separate section of this volume (the 1963-69 period is covered by a separate volume).

This book does not cover the red meter marks applied by franking machines used by individuals or companies. Since some Post Office postmarks are also applied in red, the collector is advised to read carefully the sections that follow in order to distinguish accurately the different types.

For the purpose of our listings, we have adopted the following definitions:

General slogans -

- o Advertise or commemorate events of local, national or international importance.
- o Promote campaigns sponsored by government, charities, or the Post Office.

Local Publicity slogans -

- o Advertise the virtues of a town.
- o Promote industrial opportunities.
- o Highlight local places of interest.
- o Invite local investment.

Slogans promoting particular local events, eg "Midland Antiques Fair, Solihull", and local anniversaries are listed with the General slogans, even if they are used for a long period, eg "Centenary Year Royal Shakespeare Theatre". The legend on Local Publicity slogans does not normally include a date, whereas the local slogans featured in the General list often incorporate the date or dates of the event advertised.

Because they have a more specific objective and one which presumably can be achieved in a finite time, slogans inviting contributions to charitable causes such as Dr Barnardo's and "Please help fight asthma", are included in the General list. In contrast, slogans inviting investors to lend money to local authorities (for less specific purposes) feature in the Local Publicity list.

The General slogans are listed first (in Section 5), while Section 6 contains details of the exceptional uses of General slogans. We have defined Exceptional Uses as follows -

The use must have occurred through the die being fitted to the machine at the particular office either in error, or on the initiative of the local postmaster, at a time when the slogan was not in general use.

Such exceptional uses are not to be confused with a slogan over-running, even if the die continues in use for several months after the slogan is withdrawn generally. Thus, to prove that a slogan has been used exceptionally at a certain office, examples of other obliterators (either wavy line, or another slogan) must be found in conjunction with the relevant machine dies bearing dates between the period of exceptional use of the slogan, and the adjacent period of its general use.

Section 7 lists Local Publicity slogans and Section 8 contains lists of the slogans used on Maritime Mail (both civilian and forces).

Section 9 lists slogans used at Forces Post Offices, Section 10 lists slogans used in Guernsey, Jersey and the Isle of Man since they achieved postal independence, while Section 11 includes information about all other slogan type dies including "First day of Issue" slogans. This volume concludes with an Index of all slogans used since 1917.

2 Slogan Postmarks - Background

2.1 The Universal machine

Our companion volume "Collecting Slogan Postmarks" gives a comprehensive history of the earlier machines, which we are able to bring up-to-date here. The earlier types of machine still in use and fitted with slogans are of two types: the Universal (Universal Stamping Machine Co./Universal Postal Frankers Ltd) and the Hey-Dolphin. Since 1933 they have carried the same type of town dies, which we refer to, somewhat inaccurately, as Universal machine dies. At some points in the listings that follow we have referred to them as "ordinary" machines to distinguish them from ALF machine dies (see 2.2).

2.2 The ALF machine

The Post Office introduced the first Automatic Letter Facing (ALF) machine for use in facing letters bearing the graphite line and phosphor line stamps issued experimentally in the Southampton area from 1957 onwards. These machines actually face (i.e. turn the correct way round) ready stacked envelopes (from another machine) by "looking" for the stamp(s) in the top right and bottom left corners of each envelope and, if necessary, turning the envelope over. The machines, which incorporate four stamp cancelling units, also distinguish between first and second class (fully paid and printed matter up to 1968) by detecting the number of bars of graphite or phosphor on the stamp.

The two Southampton machines were distinguishable by their S and T die letters (four of each), but town dies on later machines usually incorporated numbers as well as letters. In the example shown (see Figure B) the letter denotes the machine, while the number identifies one of the four streams in the machine (1 and 4 - second class, 2 and 3 - first class). Unfortunately there are no national standards for labelling the dies, and while Leicester managed to have the roles of letter and number reversed, Birmingham followed the Southampton pattern with one letter per machine (six machines lettered N, P, Q, R, S and T). By contrast Cardiff managed four letters per machine (A, B, C and D, and in a second machine E, F, G and H, but this applied from August 1975 - before then A and B were ordinary machines). Leeds uses a more complex system of four ALF machines with die designations from AA1 to DB2.

To summarize, some ALF dies are distinguishable, while some are not. The "worst" example comes from Newport, Gwent with its "Gwent" dies numbered 1 to 4 (ALF machine), and 1 and 2 ("ordinary" machines)! Eventually the two latter dies were renumbered 5 and 6.

During the early 1960s in the areas where ALF machines were in service the Post Office distributed phosphor lines stamps, which became a permanent feature rather than an experiment. However, by 1967 all stamps were phosphor-lined and were distributed country-wide.

2.3 The FCT machine

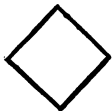

The Facer Cancellor Table (FCT) fulfils a similar function to the ALF machine in as much as it yields separate stacks of first and second class letters duly date-stamped. The difference is that the FCT is only semi-automatic and incorporates an improved manual facing table where postmen face letters by placing them the correct way round on one of two conveyors according to whether they are prepaid at the first or second class rate. The conveyor takes the letters to the stamping unit (one for first class and another for second), after which the date-stamped letters pass to a stacker unit which separates short letters from long ones.

Each FCT incorporates only two stamping units. As with the ALF machines, there is no national standard for identifying the Universal style town dies fitted to the FCTs. Indeed, the dies used in the first such machines installed at Ipswich (1969), Dorchester (1970), Harrogate (also 1970) and Chester (1971), for instance, are indistinguishable from dies used in those offices' "ordinary" machines. The first machine to have obviously different town dies was London EC with its S1 and S2 (with S3 kept as a reserve) dies (see Figure C). Introduced in May 1976 this was the fifteenth FCT to come into service.

FCTs appear to have taken over from ALFs for the remaining periods of the Post Office's mechanization programme. During the period 1975-9 the Post Office has installed over 30 FCTs but no more ALFs, although most of the 70 or so ALFs previously commissioned continue in service.

2.4 The Diamond Dies

Universal stamp cancelling machines are fitted with automatic counting devices. Thus, the number of items passing through the machine in an hour or day may be recorded. In this way each sorting office can keep a close check on the quantity of mail posted. It is not so easy to monitor the volume of mail arriving at an office for delivery, but once a year (usually in the month of October) the Post Office undertakes a detailed census of postal traffic. This covers counter business in post offices as well as the volume of mail received at an office for despatch, for forwarding, or for delivery. In this connection the stamp cancelling machines count the number of letters received for forwarding and for delivery.

When the Post Office uses Universal machines for counting mail for forwarding or delivery, the machines carry a diamond-shaped die. These dies are usually impressed on the backs of covers, or near the lower edge on the front. In the majority of instances the diamonds appear alone (ie without wavy line obliterator or slogan), but some offices employ the diamond counting die in conjunction with the current slogan die. Figure D shows a diamond mark associated with a slogan.

2.5 The Triangular Dies

Until 1968 the triangular dies, which included the code number of the office of posting but no date, performed a special function. They denoted that circulars printed in imitation typewritten characters had been posted in accordance with the regulations to qualify for the cheaper printed paper rate. However, this arrangement ceased with the introduction of the two-tier system for inland mail, so the triangular dies fell into disuse. The only examples of triangular dies we have seen from the 1970s were substitutes for the diamond dies on census duties. Figure E shows such a use in 1979. 234 is the code for Denton, Manchester. This impression is also an early use of the "Be properly addressed" slogan, as the annual census usually takes place in October, which is when this mark was applied.

2.6 The Mis-sort Dies

If any item of mail is mis-sent to the wrong post office for delivery, the office receiving it in error back-stamps the cover to explain the delay in delivery in case there is any subsequent enquiry. Provincial offices use their ordinary date-stamps (hand or machine) for this purpose. However, offices in the London Postal Area (which has been divided quite arbitrarily for postal delivery purposes) have special mis-sort dies for their Universal machines for this duty.

These dies normally bear only the word LONDON and the code of the office, in addition to the date. The codes employed correspond with the index numbers which appeared in the barred oval dies of the latter part of the nineteenth century.

The majority of London offices which employ the Universal type of mis-sort dies use them alone, but certain offices use them in conjunction with the wavy line oblitters, or the current slogan. Figure F shows such an impression from Catford SDO, London SE6 - index code 71.

2.7 The "Great Britain" Paid Dies

These were designed for use with red ink on mail pre-paid in cash. Since such mail bears no adhesive stamp, which would show the country of origin, Universal Postal Union regulations dating from 1920 require that the town die should include an indication of the country of origin (ie "Great Britain"). However, many pre-paid bulk postings are stamped with the ordinary, non-Great Britain dies. Strictly speaking such treatment is not an error providing the posting does not include overseas mail. More importantly to our interests in this volume, it is most unusual for Paid mail in the 1970s to be impressed with a slogan. This follows because the town die has no facility for showing the word "Paid". Normally a slug inserted in the central section of the "wavy line" obliterator, designed for this very purpose, shows "Paid" and the class. So a slogan used with the Great Britain circular die is not strictly correct. Figure G shows such a combination impressed in red ink.

Quite frequently these "Great Britain" dies are used for normal stamp cancelling duties and as such are impressed in black ink. Indeed, some offices regularly use their "Great Britain" dies in black when stamping second class mail.

However, three other styles of town die can quite legitimately be used with a slogan for stamping mail pre-paid in cash, since they do incorporate the word "Paid". The first of these is the square paid die, which dates from the mid-1920s. Very few are still in use and we have not seen any with a slogan from the 1970s. However, we mention the possibility here just in case one was so used and escaped our notice!

The second is the circular die incorporating both the word "Paid" and a contraction of "Great Britain". The Post Office introduced the first of these dies at Hastings in 1963, and although it appears to have gone out of use in about 1973, we illustrate an example in Figure H. The only other recorded examples come from Thanet, Kent and these do not appear to have been used with a slogan.

Last is the Guernsey "Postage Paid" die shown in Figure I with one of the three slogans from that island used only on paid mail. For this reason we consider this one of the scarcest slogans of the 1970s. Since the Guernsey Post Office is postally independent of the UK, "Great Britain" is not needed in the die inscription, indeed its inclusion would be an error of fact.

2.8 Periods of Use

The Post Office has used three methods of giving advance notice of forthcoming slogans. The first is the "Press and Broadcast Notice", which continues today, but which is not widely available to collectors.

More important for the collector was the introduction in 1971 of the "Postmark Bulletin", which the Post Office sends to collectors at approximately fortnightly intervals. This publication gives information about forthcoming slogans and special handstamps. By and large this medium has been very successful, although there have been unfortunate omissions. After nine years' experience one might think the system could be made a little more watertight. Nevertheless this Bulletin does give collectors the opportunity to send for slogans (for more details on this subject see Section 3).

Moreover, we are most grateful to the Post Office for the continued successful production of this Bulletin, for without it recording slogan information would be almost impossible.

The third medium is the monthly "Philatelic Bulletin", which contains some slogan news, but this is usually later than the "Postmark Bulletin". By its nature the "Philatelic Bulletin" goes to a much wider circulation.

In our lists we have denoted by an asterisk the slogans which were either not announced in the Bulletin, or were announced too late for collectors to obtain a first-day impression. However, we do not expect the Bulletin to list every re-use after another slogan, for example the re-introduction of the Oldham publicity slogan after the end of "A Happy Christmas". During the period 1971-4 the Bulletin announced very few of the "Post Code" campaign slogans. Neither of these types of omission have we asterisked.

Quite often slogans are used outside the correct dates. Since a post office engineer is involved in the introduction and withdrawal of any slogan, such dies are not always taken out of service at midnight of the last day of a campaign, or before the first collection of the following day is

postmarked. As a result "late uses" of slogans are quite common, but "early uses" are less so. Since a complete listing of known "late uses" would be very long, we have not included it, but for the first time in our series of catalogues we include a listing of the "latest late uses and the earliest early uses", both standard and transposed, where there are any known. Similarly, for a one-town slogan we have adjusted the dates accordingly, for example 1 Oct to 1 Nov (official end date 31 Oct). Figure J shows a slogan in use over a year late!

2.9 Inverted Slogans

Figures K and L show respectively standard and transposed slogan dies fitted to the die hub in such a way that the inscription appears upside down. In such cases the town die could also be fitted upside down, but if the resultant postmark still appears at the top of the envelope, there is generally little doubt that such a slogan has been fitted inverted.

Figure M is more intriguing: not only is the slogan die inverted, but the protective bars of the modified die hub appear to the left of the town die (which is in the standard position) instead of to the right of the transposed town die. It would appear that the die hub had been put into the machine the wrong way up.

2.10 Varieties

Slogan dies are cut mechanically using a pantograph technique. However, for two reasons differences can occur when a large number of dies of the same design are required. First, for repeat campaigns such as the "Voters Lists" slogan, new batches of dies to replace worn ones are likely to be different because the artwork has to be redrawn. The second reason is that

OPERATION GATEPOST
HELP EMERGENCY AND
PUBLIC SERVICES - PUT A NUMBER ON YOUR GATE

sometimes the number of dies required necessitates the Post Office in ordering from more than one engraving contractor. This was the case for "Can disabled go" in 1978 and "Be properly addressed" in 1979.

On some occasions the differences are worthy of separate listing. Obviously, this is a matter of opinion, and the reader may not always agree with us. We now list five different types of "Voters Lists", but refer to one more sub-type whose differences we felt could not be seen easily from an illustration. This applies also to the "Licences" slogan.

Similarly, the "Post Code" slogan, with dies produced over a 10 year period, has some variations. We mention the "Romford variation" in the listing (see no. 2607/t) and dies of this type may be found from places as far afield as Leicester and Seascale. Other differences, particularly in thickness of lettering, can be found, with thick-lettered versions from Bristol and Blackpool.

Although they are plentiful, we do not attempt to list broken dies as varieties. The "Post Code" slogans provide a number of examples of them, but we warn the collector to be sure to obtain at least two impressions from the defective die in order to prove that they came from a broken die, and were not poor copies. Our "prize" goes to Bradford, Yorkshire, where one die of the "Bradford means business" slogan eventually had four broken corners (see Figure N).

LATE NEWS

Regarding sub-section 2.7, as we go to press we have discovered a square paid die from Dudley used in red with a slogan in 1980 - see illustration.

the slogans found frequently from the franking machines used by firms and individuals. However, collectors of slogans may wish to include in their studies the slogans from such machines where the design is the same as that of the Post Office slogan which we do list. Often a local authority, which is sponsoring a Post Office slogan, will use a similar slogan in its own meter franking machine, typically the one used on mail from the Town Hall. Figure O shows an example of a meter slogan impressed by the franking machine of the organization which had sponsored a similar design Post Office slogan.

In this connection we must also mention "Postage Paid Impressions", which collectors sometimes call "printed serials". Arguably not a postmark at all, this form of denoting prepayment of postage on bulk postings started during the 1960s. Generally the "postmark" is printed on the envelope: Figure P shows the standard format enclosed within a rectangle, the serial number in this instance having been allocated by Liverpool Post Office.

Some users of this means of prepaying postage have adopted elaborate designs, some simulating adhesive stamps and others simulating actual postmarks. Figure Q shows one of the latter, which appears to have been applied by machine and is printed in red ink. In contrast, the mark shown in Figure R was actually printed on the envelope and not applied by stamp cancelling machine.

3 Collecting Slogans

3.1 Condition of Specimens

Generally there are two sources of slogans. Given advance notice of forthcoming slogans (see Section 2.8), the collector can send items for reposting to the relevant Head Postmaster, a Post Office facility which the collecting fraternity much appreciates. It is advisable to use good quality white envelopes, and, depending upon the postage rate, a light-coloured stamp. A preferred size of envelope measures 6in x $3\frac{1}{2}$ in, and if an address stamp is available the result might appear "philatelic", but it certainly provides the basis for obtaining a neat cover. Unfortunately, one does not always do so! The collector has no legal right to a replacement if the impression is poor, but he is certainly advised to return such covers and to ask. Generally Head Postmasters and their staff are very co-operative and take special care when post-marking collectors' covers.

The second source is commercial mail, i.e. the waste paper basket. Indeed, the fact that postmarks are generally easily available and for little adds to the appeal of the hobby. But here condition is a problem. Addresses on commercial mail are often type-written, which is better than hand writing in ball pen, but the envelopes are frequently brown, which are less desirable than white. The "private letter" is usually enclosed in a better envelope, but the letter writing public are generally not kind to the collector in that they write addresses too far up the envelope. Nevertheless covers from these sources are considerably cheaper and less trouble to obtain than writing to the Post Office concerned.

Some collectors cut their specimens down to strips measuring 4in x 2in. Naturally the choice lies with the individual and the strips are easier to store. However, valuations are likely to be higher, particularly for the more difficult items, if the impressions are kept intact on complete cover. Under no circumstances should the town die be separated from the slogan, even though to save space in our listings we illustrate the slogans on their own. Similarly, the cover should not be cut in any way if it bears any unusual marking, for example if it has "phosphor coding dots", is a maritime or Forces item, or a "First Day of Issue" slogan.

3.2 Purchasing Slogans

We hasten to point out that we are not dealers, and do not have slogan postmarks for sale. We recommend readers in search of slogans to approach the specialist dealers who advertise elsewhere in this catalogue.

Some dealers specialize in slogan postmarks, while others are more interested in pre-stamp and Victorian material and regard slogans as of secondary importance. As they find it impracticable to send selections of slogan postmarks on approval, we commend to readers the practice of submitting Wants Lists. You are much more likely to receive good service from dealers through this type of approach.

3.3 Valuations

Generally we find it difficult to put values on modern slogans. Largely frowned upon by the collector of older postmark material, most dealers are not prepared to deal in this type of material. Nevertheless, we feel strongly that modern slogans do have an inherent value, particularly as to send for a slogan currently (in January 1980) costs 8p each way at least! As with other material, the value to the individual can also vary depending on the circumstances. For instance, if he collects sport postmarks and finds an Ilkley Rugby Football slogan of 1971, he may be prepared to pay more than we have indicated.

What we have done in this volume is to list the slogan valuations on a comparative basis, ranging from the "Post Code" slogan, which is interesting to study but of little value, up to the items for which there will continue to be a demand and for which there is a very limited supply. The latter will probably command a price of several pounds. Few such marks date from the 1970s, but value alone will probably not be the sole criterion of the collector using this catalogue.

Our valuations are based on the clean, complete white envelope mentioned at the beginning of this chapter. We have based the valuations used in this listing upon the following definitions:

A Multi-town slogan, "Post Code" or other slogan used over a period of some years. Never likely to carry much financial value	1-2p	D Was not easy to find when current, either unannounced use by one large or a few smaller offices, or announced use by small office, so virtually only philatelic copies available. Also includes some multi-town slogans which have a thematic appeal, such as NATO, or Europe	30p-£1
B Single town slogan used over an extended period, or slogan used at a small number of offices. Very common at the time.	3-10p	E Most elusive when current, unannounced and not generally known about until too late.	£1-£3
C Straightforward single town slogan used for a few weeks and which could be sent for at the time. Possibly not easy to find now, since no one kept a stock! Also includes some multi-town slogans used only for short periods	10-30p	F Category reserved for noteworthy items bound to carry a premium on the grounds of both scarcity and being much sought after. Unlikely to be many from the 1970s.	£3-£10

4 Postal History of the Seventies

Some students reserve the term postal history for the period either before the introduction of the adhesive postage label in 1840, or before the twentieth century! It is not usually associated with the "modern" period, considered of less interest by many. We consider this to be a short-sighted view. While this volume concentrates on but one aspect of UK postmarks, we make no apology for taking this opportunity to outline several relevant developments in the postal service during the 1970s. Together they form part of the postal history of a period during which change was the order of the day!

4.1 The Two Tier System

Because of its importance in understanding certain details of postmarks of the 1970s, we must start by looking at implications of the two tier system for inland mail introduced on 16 September 1968. Streaming mail into two tiers allows the Post Office to give priority to sorting the first class stream.

First class mail usually receives a postmark including the time of collection as well as the date, while second class mail frequently receives an untime mark. To provide such treatment many "medium size" offices now have either two stamp cancelling machines, or two cancelling die hubs which they can use in turn on their single machine. Sometimes a die letter distinguishes between the dies for first and second class mail (e.g. Lincoln A and B). At other offices, such as Stockwell SW9, different styles of lettering confirm that they use more than one die. However, some offices have pairs of town dies which are virtually identical.

Thus the collector can distinguish between the postmark for first and second class mail by the presence or absence of the time. However, he has still to establish if the particular office uses two different town dies, or slogan dies. We can at least help on the latter point in these listings.

The smallest offices using slogans do not segregate first and second class mail for stamping purposes: they postmark all their letter post mail on the one machine using one town die and one slogan die. They probably segregate first class letters from second at a later stage. Several offices in Northern Ireland provide examples of this practice.

The use of "Great Britain" dies in black, referred to in Section 2.7, often results from the two tier system. The need to use two town dies (unless the time slugs are to be inserted and removed frequently during the day) has pressed Great Britain dies into service with black ink for stamp cancelling at several offices. Haywards Heath, Ilkley and Stevenage have frequently done this, in fact so far as we are aware Ilkley has stamped all its mail for several years with its Great Britain die!

4.2 The Postal Strike, 1971

From 20 January to 7 March 1971 the Union of Post Office Workers were on official strike. While the stoppage was fairly complete, a number of offices in South East England and a few elsewhere provided a limited service using those members of their staffs who continued working. This allowed a flow of local mail and in Kent and Sussex some mail internal to those counties. Guernsey and Jersey were not affected, except that mail to the UK could not be delivered and vice versa. Also, the Forces Postal Service, which in the UK operates largely independently of the Post Office, continued, but with the same restrictions as Guernsey and Jersey.

Offices which carried on machine stamping mail during the strike included several using the "Decimal leaflet" slogan (see no. 1725/t for details), "wavy lines" at Hailsham and Horley, and local publicity slogans at Bognor Regis, Hastings and Herne Bay.

The following campaigns, announced by the Post Office before the strike, did not take place at all:

Other effects of the strike on slogan campaigns were:

- a "old" slogans continued for a while after the strike before being changed, e.g. LP.1022t and LP.1041t.
- b "new" slogans' start dates were delayed until 8 March, "old" slogans having ended on 19

January, e.g. LP. 1049t and 1050t.

- c two uses of the same slogan became joined into one. This is true of nos. 1717t, 1720t and LP. 1036/t.
- d some campaigns extended to compensate the sponsor for the "lost time", e.g. LP.1018t and LP.1021t.

Although the postmen generally resumed work on 8 March 1971, mail was not necessarily collected from letter boxes on that date, presumably to enable them first to clear the backlog still "in the system". Thus mail which had been "sitting" in letter boxes or freshly posted at the end of the strike was not postmarked at some offices until 9 or even 10 March. We have not relisted the remaining current slogans which started again on 8 March (e.g. no. 1711t).

For details of the private mail services, which operated during the strike, with a whole range of stamps and postmarks, we refer the reader to the specialist books on the subject.

4.3 Standard and Transposed Slogans

As previously stated (in section 2.1), transposed slogans came into use in 1963, Bath being the first office to use such a slogan from 1 July. Initially used only for one-town publicity slogans, the designs no longer had to include the eight "skid lines", or protective bars at the right of the design. However, slogans intended for use in the standard position continued to include these lines.

For several years neither Hey Dolphin nor ALF machines could not accept die hubs with the slogan dies in the transposed position. This explains why two slightly different designs of certain slogans exist with and without lines to the right: Cambridge provides several examples.

By observing these protective bars one could detect during 1968 a change of contractor for die engraving. Dies with eight bars were followed by a few engraved with nine. Thereafter slogan dies with seven protective bars became the new standard. However, by 1970 the transposed position became the norm for all slogan campaigns, so no new slogan dies included the seven lines at the right.

Subsequently the Post Office reversed the trend. Partly as a result of criticism from customers over reduced standards of service, the Post Office introduced procedures for monitoring times and dates of posting. With the slogan in the transposed position, the town die was frequently impressed on the stamp and if this was of a dark colour the details were illegible.

The change back to the standard position started with the "Happy Christmas" slogan of 1975, but many of these slogans were still used transposed. Following this, most of the "Post Code" slogans reverted to standard during April 1976, with other publicity slogans changing from September of that year. At the same time the seven protective bars came back into new designs (see Figure A). However, unlike the 1960s designs, the bars appeared inside the frame enclosing the slogan design. Some new dies of old slogans incorporated these protective bars - Great Yarmouth, Kelso and Portsmouth provide examples. So history has come full circle and by 1979 very few slogans were used transposed.

4.4 County Name Changes

The Local Government Act, 1972 led to major changes in local administration in England and Wales. Changes in county names in parts of England and in the whole of Wales gave the Post Office a major task of providing new postmarks to the offices affected. It set itself a year from mid-1974 to mid-1975 for completing the exercise. Since every date-stamp, including those for all sub-offices in the relevant areas had to be changed, the provision of new dies for stamp cancelling machines was but a small part of the task. The Post Office decided not to introduce into postmarks the counties of "Greater Manchester" and "Hereford & Worcester".

The following changes in county name occurred:

- (a) Cumberland, Westmorland, Teesside, Rutland, Huntingdon and Shropshire disappeared completely (see also (c));
- (b) Cumbria, Tyne & Wear, Cleveland, Merseyside, West Midlands, Humberside (North & South) and Avon were created as new counties. In addition Salop replaced the alternative name Shropshire.
- (c) All Welsh counties except Glamorgan disappeared and were replaced by Clwyd, Dyfed, Gwent, Gwynedd and Powys. However, Clwyd had been used in machine postmarks since 1972 and Gwent since 1973.
- (d) Yorkshire was split into North, South and West, Sussex into East and West, and Glamorgan into Mid, West and South.

In addition the boundaries of some other counties were redrawn, so that Abingdon, Berks, for example, became Abingdon, Oxon.

Figure A shows an example of a Welsh "new county" town die. This illustration also shows a slogan advertising or commemorating one of the new counties. Other slogans introduced in April 1974 marked the creation of some of the new district councils under the same legislation.

With the exception of the major offices such as Cardiff, Leeds and Sheffield, whose date stamps do not normally include the county name, the machine dies at all offices in the areas listed above were replaced with ones including the name of the appropriate new county.

The list which follows includes all those slogans in use at offices at the time when the county name in the respective offices' town dies changed. However, we have omitted the multitude of "Post Code" slogans in use at the time of the change. Also, we have not listed offices affected by the change if they were not using a slogan at the time of the change. For example "Keighley, Yorkshire" used the "Going places?" slogan in 1972-3, but the town die was changed to "Keighley, West Yorkshire" long before the introduction of the "Steam trains" slogan of 1978.

The Local Government (Scotland) Act, 1973 created with effect from April 1975 a smaller number of regions from the existing Scottish counties. However, after consulting with its customers in Scotland, the Post Office decided against incorporating the names of the new regions in place of the counties in postmark inscriptions. Thus, although it is now in the Grampian Region, Elgin's machine die still includes "Morayshire" in its inscription.

4.5 Sunday Collections

As an economy measure the Post Office suspended Sunday collections from street letter boxes in the Spring of 1976. The last general Sunday collections were made on Sunday, 25 April 1976. The effect on slogan postmarks is obvious. However, there are three exceptions to this general rule:

- (a) in some major towns there are late evening collections on Sundays from the Head Office posting box, so it is possible, for example, to obtain an 11.45pm Sunday postmark from Preston;
- (b) on the Sunday before Christmas (or two Sundays depending upon the day of the week on which Christmas Day falls) there are special Sunday collections;
- (c) being postally independent of the British Post Office, Guernsey and Jersey did not withdraw Sunday collections although the Isle of Man did.

4.6 Guernsey, Jersey and the Isle of Man

Guernsey and Jersey became independent, postally from the British Post Office with effect from 1 October 1969. On 5 July 1973 the Isle of Man followed the example of the Channel Isles. We list the slogan postmarks of these three postal administrations (from the date of their independence) in a separate section of this volume.

4.7 Concentration of Outward Mail

In recent years, with a view to improving efficiency, the Post Office has been re-organizing the date-stamping and sorting of outward mail. Now the local office of posting undertakes less of this work. Instead the mail goes to the main office, which can handle it more quickly and use less manpower, particularly if it has modern, automatic sorting machines. So far as the postmark collector is concerned, the effects of this policy are as follows:

- (a) The postmark impressed on a letter may not be that of the place of posting. Naturally this is sometimes the subject of local objections, such as in 1967 when mail from Fordingbridge (in Hampshire) was taken to Salisbury (in Wiltshire) for postmarking.
- (b) In the above example the Salisbury office did not adopt a new postmark inscription. However, in other areas the Post Office has expended a good deal of effort so as not to upset local residents, and, as a compromise, introduced a new "generic" postmark to designate the catchment area of the main office. The first example came from Blackpool, which introduced in 1967 postmarks inscribed "Fylde Coast". Later this office adopted the title "Fylde, Blackpool, Wyre", presumably to reintroduce "Blackpool" and so give a clearer indication of the area of posting! Other examples come from North Devon (Barnstaple), Mid-Northumberland (Morpeth) and Sussex Coast (Brighton), all introduced since 1969.
- (c) One interesting variation of (b) occurs where offices within the area use town dies incorporating distinguishing features in their stamp cancelling machines. For example both Middlesbrough and Stockton-on-Tees used "Teesside" machine dies, while both Harrow and Wembley use "Harrow" dies. In the lists we refer to such variants, so that collectors may understand where specimens were stamped.
- (d) So what has happened to the local or small office which has become part of one of the new, large catchment areas? Without doubt most of the mail from such offices goes direct to the "central" office. However, some of the small offices have retained their machines for stamping local mail only. Retaining the machine will enable, for example, local first class mail from the first collection (i.e. mail posted overnight to catch the early morning collection at, say, 6.15 am) to fall into the first delivery. Some offices stamp the proceeds of all the early collections of the day. Particularly when such machines are used for local mail only, the postmark collector has a problem in finding specimens. Furthermore, the Head Postmaster can hardly repost covers for a collector living outside the area! Since about 1975 much of the mail posted in South Wales has received the postmarks of either Cardiff, or Newport, Mon (later "Gwent"). However, within this area local mail is still stamped at Bridgend, Aberdare, Abertillery and Monmouth, for example. But experience of other areas suggests that such "local" arrangements eventually die out, although in some instances local mail may be hand-stamped. For example, the machines at the local offices of Leicester, Norwich and Nottingham appear to have gone out of use.

4.8 Postcodes

The process of issuing postcodes across the whole country was well under way at the beginning of this decade. Norwich, the experimental area with an outward code comprising three alphabetic characters, NOR, had been coded in 1959. The Post Office started the task of coding all other areas in 1966 with Croydon. Each area marked the launch of postcodes on its customers with a fair amount of local publicity including a slogan campaign. From 1969 "Remember to use the Post Code!" (Type 941) became the standard design for these campaigns. Some ran for a mere 6 weeks, but the majority became semi-permanent with the postcode slogan used whenever other campaigns allowed. A few slogan dies of the previous design, type 627, continued through the 1970s, and we illustrate the two designs at Figure S (Type 627) and Figure T (Type 941).

While we have listed the postcode slogans area by area, since they were introduced this way, we have not attempted to relist each after every break in use, such as after each use of "A Happy Christmas The Post Office". Similarly the number of dies in use at each office probably varied with time, so we can hardly claim complete accuracy in that respect.

Since collectors may have difficulty in establishing from which area any particular "Post Code" slogan originated, we have two suggestions to offer. First, obtain a copy of the Post Office publication "Postal Addresses and Index to Postcode Directories". This is an alphabetical listing of place names in the United Kingdom outside the London Postal Area. For large cities and small hamlets alike it shows their full postal addresses and their postcode area. This volume was previously obtainable at post offices, price 10p. However, we regret to see that the latest (July 1978) edition is marked "for official use", which suggests that it is no longer readily available to members of the public.

Secondly, we include in section 4.12 a list of those offices which have ever used any of the "Post Code" slogans. Grouped under the main office in each postcode area, the list includes some offices which used "Post Code" slogans only before 1970. Along with the index at the back of this volume, these guides should enable the collector to "place" accurately any "Post Code" slogan.

Some of the postcode areas are quite large and in some postcodes were introduced in two or three stages. In most cases the slogan campaign was revived when an existing postcode area was extended, perhaps to take in an adjacent Head Postmaster's area. We refer to such extensions in the relevant slogan entries. In some instances areas first coded before 1970 were extended after that date: no 1511, 1512 for the Leicester postcode area provide examples of this.

Postcoding new areas and extending existing areas continued at a fair pace from 1970 to 1973 ending with the recoding of Norwich with NR codes (to match the rest of the country) and the inclusion in the NR area of most of Norfolk in 1974.

Meanwhile, the mechanization process for which postcodes were introduced had started slowly. Following experiments with coding desks at Luton (which were concluded) and at Norwich (which continued) in the 1960s, operational systems were installed in 1969-70 at London EC, Croydon, Southampton and Newport, Mon. Phosphor dots appeared on covers from these offices from these dates onwards. Thus collectors of slogans should keep the cover entire if it has been so processed

The subject of "coded covers" is outside the scope of this volume: collectors seeking further details of this aspect of contemporary postal history should refer to the several, recently published guides on the subject.

During the past decade the number of offices sorting mechanically their mail - inward, outward or both - continued to grow. Industrial disputes during 1974-76 prevented some new equipment being brought into use. However, mechanization continued thereafter and in 1976 gave birth to the term "Mechanized Letter Office".

4.9 Mechanized Letter Offices (MLOs)

We can now add together the elements of the two previous sections. Once outward mail, or a proportion of it, is postcoded and the mail from an area is concentrated onto the one office, the Post Office can introduce coding desk equipment. This in conjunction with letter sorting machines enables outward mail to be sorted automatically. Such an office, which will also sort inward mail automatically, has been termed the Mechanized Letter Office. Slogan postmarks and in some instances town dies have advertised the fact that a particular office is mechanized. This phase of promoting the Post Office's programme to mechanize mail handling started in 1976 and during 1979 the MLO slogans were withdrawn. It appears that by then the Post Office felt that the concept of mechanization was well known and that the "Code it!" message had more impact on its own. (Clearly the success of mechanization depends on the public concluding inland addresses with postcodes.) In November 1979 a new national slogan "Be properly addressed - Postcode it" took over.

Not all offices equipped with coding desks and letter sorting machines ran MLO slogan postmark campaigns. Preston and Cardiff are examples, while Redhill only incorporated the letters MLO in the town dies of its FCT. However, 17 offices used MLO slogans during the period 1976 to 1979.

The last development in this context worthy of mention is the introduction of coloured (blue) code dots in place of the colourless ones.

These dots came into use experimentally at Sheffield in October 1978. Clearly the idea of showing the public that the letters had been machine coded was successful and the Sheffield experiment was extended to Bristol, Chelmsford and many offices in the North East of England during 1979.

According to current Post Office plans the programme for installing Mechanized Letter Offices is due for completion by 1982-3, although relevant slogan campaigns now seem unlikely.

4.10 The Rise and Fall of the Slogan

The actual number of slogans in use has changed from year to year during the decade. Following the introduction of Local Publicity slogans in 1963 and the growth in the number of such slogans in the 1960s, the number of General slogans advertising festivals, shows and anniversaries, all with a local appeal, also grew.

However, as the 1970s progressed, the rising costs of sponsoring slogan campaigns, and the cut backs in local authority spending seem to have combined to reduce the number of new slogans. To illustrate this point we list below the number of new slogans year by year from 1957. We have counted each slogan only in the year of its introduction or re-introduction; we have counted the number of catalogue entries including sub-types.

Year	General	Local Publicity	Total

4.11 Future Slogans and Acknowledgements

On the assumption that slogan usage remains at the reduced level of the past few years as indicated in the last section, we are unsure when we can justify publishing the next edition in our series of slogan postmark catalogues. In the meantime, slogan lists will continue to appear regularly in the "Quarterly Bulletin" of the British Postmark Society. In addition to British slogan postmarks this latter journal covers all aspects of twentieth century postmarks. Readers who are sufficiently interested to wish to apply for membership are asked to write to the Society's Hon Secretary:

Mr A J Howard, 9 Gainsborough Avenue,
Marple Bridge, Stockport Cheshire SK6 5BW

Meanwhile, readers are asked to report their slogan "finds" . . of late or early uses and of unannounced slogans . . and any other slogan news to:

Colin Peachey, 19 Moorland Road,
Hemel Hempstead, Herts, HP1 1NH

Finally, we would like to express our appreciation to those friends who have kindly reported their news in the past. Without their help this publication would not have been possible. In particular we wish to thank Andrew Gulliver, Patrick Awcock and Frank Harwood who have kept their reports rolling in over the years. Michael Dobbs and fellow members of the Forces Postal History Society have kindly up-dated the listing of slogans used at Forces Post Offices. We also gratefully acknowledge the value of the lists of Universal machine postmarks compiled periodically by P T Carter, D C Holliday and B P Pask. These lists proved extremely useful in building up the lists in the next sub-section.

Our thanks are also due to Head Postmasters and to Post Office staff countrywide who have patiently attended to our queries, and whose help both in reposting covers and providing information has all helped to make this book as complete as we hope it is.

Naturally, we would also like to thank the Post Office personnel responsible for producing The Postmark Bulletin mentioned in section 2.8 for their continued, invaluable assistance. We wish the journal well as it approaches its tenth birthday!

4.12 Postcode Areas

We list below in alphabetical order the postcode areas from Aberdeen to York, including within each area all offices which have used any or all of the various postcode slogans from "Norwich Addresses need Postal Codes" in 1959 to "Be properly addressed - Postcode it" in 1979. From this list the reader ought to be able to identify the relevant area to which any impression of a postcode slogan belongs. Then, by reference to the Index he should be able to trace the relevant catalogue entry.

We have included the dates of introduction of postcodes and the first two characters of the postcode itself. Each postcode area begins with the Head Office (other Head Postmaster's areas may be included within the postcode area) followed by other towns in alphabetical order. To save space we have purposely omitted from the list the names of offices which have not used postcode slogans whether they have suitable machines or not. However, to aid identification we have included some details of alternative town dies used at some offices.

5 General Slogans

In order to tell the whole story of 1970s "Post Code" slogans, we start this section with a complete listing of the first five uses of type 941 "Post Code" slogan; for illustration see figure T on page 13.

- | | | | | |
|-------|--|------------|---|--|
| | Remember to use the Post Code ! | 941 | | |
| 1385 | 22 Sep 1969 to date to be announced (standard) | | A | 1399t 3 Nov 1969 to 2 Jan 1970
Used at Hull (2 dies) and Beverley |
| 1385t | June 1970 to Sep 1976 (transposed) | | A | |
| | (a) Used at Harrow and Wembley (two dies each, both "Harrow & Wembley" town dies), Edgware (2), Northwood (town die changed to "Harrow & Wembley N" from Oct 1970), Pinner, Ruislip, all standard; ended between Aug 1970 and Dec 1971 except at Edgware and Ruislip | | | 1404t 17 Nov 1969 to April 1976 (transposed)
1404 April 1976 to about Jan 1980 (standard) |
| | (b) One of Harrow dies changed to transposed from June to Aug 1970 | | | (a) Used at Plymouth (3 dies) and at five other offices in Plymouth area, all transposed and used to Jan 1971 |
| | (c) Changed to transposed at Edgware from June 1970 and at Ruislip from March 1972 (though used standard at Ruislip Sep 1975 only, then reverting to transposed) | | | (b) On extension of Plymouth's postcode area, used transposed at Bodmin, St Austell (probably two dies each), and Wadebridge from 5 Feb 1973 |
| | (d) Used at Pinner again, but now with "Harrow & Wembley P" town die, Nov to Dec 1974 only, standard | | | (c) Reintroduced from 2 Sep 1974 at Plymouth (2 dies), Launceston, Saltash, Tavistock, all transposed |
| | (e) Reintroduced standard at Harrow from April 1976 ("Harrow & Wembley" town dies) but ended Oct 1976 because other slogans brought into use; only exception to this was use in at least one "Christmas extra" machine in Dec 1976, and with "Harrow" town die (no Wembley), Dec 1978 and Dec 1979 | | | (d) Changed to standard at all offices from April 1976 except Tavistock which had stopped stamping mail from March 1976 |
| | (f) Changed to standard at Ruislip from Aug 1976 and at Edgware from Sep 1976 | | | (e) Launceston stopped stamping mail from July 1977 and Saltash from Oct 1978 |
| | (g) Ended about 1978 at Edgware but continued standard at Ruislip, with town die changed to "Harrow R" from Sep 1978, but ended about Feb 1980 | | | (f) Ended 3 Nov 1979 except at Plymouth and St Austell (probably one die each) but these ended early in 1980 |
| | (h) One die used standard at Harrow from early 1980 to date almost continuously | | | |
| 1392 | 10 Oct 1969 to 3 Nov 1979 (standard) | | A | 1408 24 Nov 1969 to about Dec 1979 (standard) |
| 1392t | 2 Sep 1974 to March 1976 (transposed) | | A | 1408t 28 May 1970 to April 1976 (transposed) |
| | (a) Used standard at Bournemouth-Poole (12 dies in three ALF machines), 10 Oct 1969 to Jan 1971; no.1163/t continued in use | | | (a) Used at Wolverhampton (six dies including four in ALF machine), and at Bilston, all standard |
| | (b) Reintroduced but transposed from 2 Sep 1974, then changed to standard again from April 1976 | | | (b) Changed to transposed at Wolverhampton ordinary machines from 28 May 1970 |
| | (c) Not used 1978 to July 1979 while "Mechanised Letter Sorting" slogan in use | | | (c) Changed to transposed at Bilston from Nov 1970 but ended Dec 1970 |
| | | | | (d) Changed to standard in Wolverhampton ordinary machines from April 1976, but ALF machine later stopped (and FCT used instead) and probably about two or three dies remained in use, and at least one die remained in use after introduction of "Be Properly Addressed" slogan in Nov 1979 |

 - (a) Used at London E1 and sub-districts E2 to 18; initially about 14 of the districts used the slogan transposed, and the general pattern was that slowly, over the years 1971 to 1974, the transposed offices changed to standard. Exceptions to this were as follows -
 - (b) London E1 where the slogan remained standard but which stopped stamping mail in 1971
 - (c) Homerton E9, which had changed to standard, but which stopped stamping mail in 1977, merging with E2 to form "Bethnal Gn & Homerton E2" (standard)
 - (d) Leyton which remained the only office to stay standard for the whole period; other offices such as Manor Park E12 changed to standard by Nov 1977 but the slogan had stopped at some offices
 - (d) Poplar E14, Stratford E15, Walthamstow E17, which had 2 dies each, and which frequently had one die standard and one die transposed

| 1578t                                  | 22 June 1970 to 3 Nov 1979 (transposed)(a) Used at Birmingham (5 dies) and at eight District Offices, transposed except Coleshill which was standard in error on first day only; used 22 June to 2 Aug 1970(b) Unlike other areas where the "Post Code" slogan was used continuously, usage was more intermittent at Birmingham, and after Aug 1970 it was used again Aug to Oct 1971 and from April 1972. The slogan was used in Birmingham ALF machines (P, Q etc.) from April 1972. However, use was continuous from June 1970 at Erdington(c) On extension of Birmingham's postcode area, the next campaign from 6 Nov to 9 Dec 1972 included 15 offices as well as Birmingham Head Office; six of these were standard at first but all except West Bromwich changed to transposed within the period. At West Bromwich the slogan continued and was changed to transposed by Jan 1973, and possibly it continued till the next campaign, see (e). It also continued at Tamworth, one die standard and one transposed(d) Other standard uses included Birmingham WDO 9 to 11 Oct 1972, Redditch Dec 1972 to Jan 1973(e) The next campaign was 4 to 30 June 1973, all transposed except Tamworth both standard and transposed(f) Continued in use transposed 1973-4 at Moseley DO(g) The next campaign started Sep 1974 and continued in use at most offices; all were transposed except Birmingham ADO, Moseley DO, Northfield (seen Dec 1974 only), West Bromwich (probably one die standard and one transposed at West Bromwich) of which at least ADO continued in use to 1976, when ADO and CH (Aston and Camp Hill) stopped stamping mail(h) Generally all dies changed to standard from March 1976, but one die at West Bromwich changed only about Oct 1976, and some offices later stopped using the slogan(i) The exception to the change in (h) was Redditch where one of the two dies continued transposed to 1979(j) Ended 3 Nov 1979, but Dec 1979 at Birmingham WDO, and continued in use (standard) at Solihull, Tamworth and Warley | A   |

|       | (a) Used at Chelmsford (one die standard and one die transposed), standard at Maldon and transposed at Braintree, Ongar, Witham, but probably not used for long at Ongar                                                                                                                                                 |   |  |
|       | (b) By about Sep 1970 both Chelmsford dies were transposed; by about May 1972 both had reverted to standard, and from then on they were usually standard but occasionally transposed, but back to transposed from about April 1975, then see (e)                                                                         |   |  |
|       | (c) On extension of Chelmsford's postcode area, also used at Bishops Stortford and Epping standard, and transposed at Brentwood and Harlow from 12 March 1973. Seen standard at Harlow 25 March 1973 only. Brentwood continued but the other three offices ended 11 June 1973                                            |   |  |
|       | (d) Used again at Bishops Stortford from Sep 1974 and changed to standard at Braintree from Oct 1974. Seen at Harlow (transposed) Dec 1974 only                                                                                                                                                                          |   |  |
|       | (e) Changed to standard during 1976 at Chelmsford, Brentwood, Witham, and reintroduced standard at Harlow from 31 Aug 1976, but slogan not seen from Maldon; see also E.150                                                                                                                                              |   |  |
|       | (f) Slogan little used at Chelmsford after Oct 1976 since other slogans in use, but used in extra machine Dec 1978                                                                                                                                                                                                       |   |  |
|       | (g) Ended 3 Nov 1979 except at Braintree where it appears to have ended by about Jan 1980                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |   |  |

- (d) Used standard as well as transposed at Newport Mon in 1972; also, Chepstow thought to have stopped stamping mail in 1972
- (e) From 1 Jan 1973 Newport Mon dies changed to "Gwent", used standard at first but transposed on a few dates in 1973
- (f) Also from 1 Jan 1973 Ebbw Vale die used again transposed, but ended 11 Feb 1973, then used standard after LP.1350t and again after LP.1549t
- (g) Changed to transposed at Abertillery from about March 1973
- (h) From 1974 "Gwent" dies generally were transposed, but from 1976 generally changed to standard, see also no. 2098/t
- (i) Slogan appears to have ended 1974 at Tredegar, replaced by no.2098
- (j) Ended 3 Nov 1979 at Newport ("Gwent" town dies), later in Nov 1979 at Abertillery (transposed), and continued standard at 6 other offices

1669t 12 Oct 1970 to Dec 1976 (transposed) A
1669 27 Nov 1972 to Feb 1980 (standard) A

- (a) Used at Oxford transposed, two dies in "ordinary" machines and a further four dies in ALF machine from 1 Dec 1970
- (b) On extension of Oxford's postcode area also used, transposed, at Abingdon from 27 Nov 1972, and standard at Banbury, Didcot (probably two dies at each), Wallingford, Wantage from the same date
- (c) Changed to transposed at Banbury Dec 1973 only, then again from Dec 1974 to at least Jan 1975, but only one of the two dies
- (d) Changed to transposed at Didcot from about Feb 1974, possibly only one of the two dies
- (e) Changed to standard from April 1976 at Oxford, but one die standard and one die transposed continued at each of Abingdon, Banbury, Didcot, but eventually all became standard, latest seen transposed March 1977
- (f) Wallingford and Wantage stopped stamping mail 1977, and Didcot Feb 1978
- (g) Number of dies at Oxford reduced to two from 5 Nov 1979, and slogan continued in use at Abingdon and Banbury to Feb 1980

Decimal Currency take a leaflet 1153
1725/t This slogan was originally planned (a) D for use 1 to 28 Feb, but because (b) E of the postal strike most of the (c) B
1166 dies were never used at all.
The slogan was used in three periods :
(a) Prior to the strike, when there were early uses as follows :

Transposed

12 Jan Dorchester, Frome, Littlehampton
13 Jan Pulborough
15 Jan Storrington
19 Jan Arundel

Standard

18 Jan New Romney

As far as we know all these ended on 19 Jan, even New Romney where the slogan was used again from 19 Feb, see below

(b) During the strike, when about 13 dies (listed below) are known to have been used, and some of these carried on after 28 Feb and continued beyond the end of the strike.

Standard

Hindhead
Hythe
Lewes
New Romney

Transposed

Haslemere
Liphook
Ramsgate

Newhaven
Petersfield
Petworth
Ramsgate

Hythe is believed to be the only office which used the slogan on 1 Feb, the correct first day. 180 items were cancelled on 1 Feb, and examples used on this date are rare. About 300 items per day were cancelled at Hythe during the remainder of the strike.

(c) After the strike, when the majority of the dies were used, starting on 8 March, or 9 March in some cases. They were used for varying periods, some for one day only, some for a few days, while many continued into April. A few, chiefly London sub-districts (transposed), carried on during May and later months, presumably since supplies of the decimal leaflet were still available. In all, about 33 dies were used standard and about 110 used transposed. Used in red at Broadstairs (standard) on 15 March

- 2098t 1 Oct 1972 to Dec 1974 (transposed) B
- 2098 Dec 1974 to date to be announced B
(standard)
- (a) Used at Newport Mon, transposed from 1 to 31 Oct 1972, one die only in stream 2 of ALF machine, in addition to the type 941 dies (no.1668t); previous use listed as no.962
- (b) Used again at Newport with "Gwent" town die, transposed, Oct to Dec 1974
- (c) Used standard at Tredegar from Dec 1974, apparently instead of type 941 (no.1668), and also at "Gwent", presumably a second die, from Jan 1977

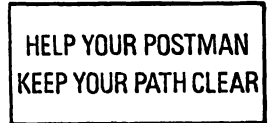

Remember to use the Post Code ! 941

- 2099t 2 Oct 1972 to Oct 1979 (transposed) A
- 2099 Dec 1975 to 10 Nov 1979 (standard) A
- (a) Used at Inverness (two dies) and at 11 other offices in N Scotland, all transposed, 2 Oct to 11 Nov 1972, but 9 Oct to 18 Nov 1972 at some offices. The area includes the Inverness postcode area (IV postcode), Kirkwall area (KW postcode) and Lerwick (ZE postcode); Lerwick was previously coded AB (Aberdeen) and appeared accordingly in earlier Aberdeen area slogan campaigns, see nos 836t, 998t
- (b) Used again transposed at all offices except Inverness and Nairn from Sep 1974 (Kirkwall from Jan 1975)
- (c) All offices changed to standard between Dec 1975 (Wick) and June 1977 (Forres) except Elgin which continued transposed to Oct 1979
- 2100t 9 Oct 1972 to Dec 1979 (transposed) A
- 2100 Feb 1976 to 10 Nov 1979 (standard) A
- (a) Used at Aberdeen (six dies) and at six other offices in Aberdeen area, transposed, 9 Oct to 4 Nov 1972; previously used nos 957/t, 958/t, 1113/t; see also E.103t
- (b) Used again at Aberdeen (6) from Sep 1974, and five other offices in Aberdeen area from Jan 1975, including Banff after no.2556t (but not Peterhead, see no.2556), all transposed
- (c) Changed to standard at Aberdeen (6) from Feb 1976, but not used while "MIO" slogan in use 1977-9
- (d) Other offices stopped stamping mail 1976 or 1977, but used transposed again Dec 1977 at Banff, Fraserburgh, Stonehaven, and Dec 1979 at Banff, Buckie, Fraserburgh, Huntly, Stonehaven (but not Peterhead, see no. 2556)
- 2101 9 Oct 1972 to date to be announced A (standard)
- 2101t 9 Oct 1972 to Aug 1977 (transposed) A
- (a) Used at Rochester with "Medway" town dies (4 dies), Maidstone (3 dies), (both offices ended 9 Dec 1972), and Faversham, all transposed but Faversham used standard first day only then transposed
- (b) Used again transposed at Maidstone from Feb 1975 and at "Medway" from about March 1976; both offices appear to have used the slogan both standard and transposed March to May 1976, then to have settled down using the slogan standard
- (c) Changed to standard at Faversham from Aug 1977
- (d) Ended 3 Nov 1979 except at Faversham

- 2152t 12 Feb 1973 to Aug 1976 (transposed) A
 2152 April 1976 to about March 1980 A
 (standard)
- (a) Used at Lancaster ("Lancaster & Morecambe" town dies, two dies), and at eight other offices in Lancaster area, all transposed
- (b) Changed to standard at all offices from April 1976, but transposed again at "Lancaster & Morecambe" approx June to Aug 1976, then reverting to standard again
- (c) Ended 3 Nov 1979 except at "Lancaster & Morecambe" (one die) and Carnforth, but these in turn appear to have ended by about March 1980
- 2153 12 Feb 1973 to 18 Aug 1979 (standard) A
 2153t 12 Feb 1973 to 18 Aug 1979 (transposed) A
- (a) Used at Bletchley with "Milton Keynes" town dies (unreadable die letters, two dies) transposed on first day only then standard, transposed at Wolverton with "Milton Keynes 12" town dies (two dies) Bedford (2), and standard at Buckingham (see also E.109) and Newport Pagnell
- (b) The two Milton Keynes town dies with "unreadable die letters" had originally been inscribed "Milton Keynes 12" in error (MK12 being the postcode of Wolverton area not Bletchley); the "12" had been filed away, but remained partly discernible. Apart from one new die in use 1973-4 these dies have remained in use to 1980
- (c) Probably ended later in 1973 at Bedford, but reintroduced for a while, standard from Sep 1974 and again, but transposed, from Sep 1975
- (d) Used again standard at Bedford (2) from April 1976 and used intermittently thereafter
- (e) Normally used transposed at Wolverton ("Milton Keynes 12") but occasionally used standard
- 2154t 12 Feb 1973 to Nov 1979 (transposed) A 2154 Dec 1974 to 2 Feb 1980 (standard) A
- (a) Used at St Albans and Welwyn Garden City, two dies each, transposed
- (b) Changed to standard at Welwyn Garden City (one die) Dec 1974 to Jan 1975, then reverting to transposed
- (c) Changed to standard at both offices from March 1976, but only one die in use at Welwyn Garden City from 1975 as other slogans in use
- (d) Used transposed again at Welwyn Garden City Nov 1979 only, then reverting to standard again

- 2158 March 1977 to 3 Nov 1979 (standard) A
- (a) Used at Salisbury and Andover, two dies each, transposed, 19 Feb to 1 April 1973
- (b) Used again transposed from April 1975
- (c) Changed to standard at Andover from March 1977, Salisbury from April 1977, and slogan used intermittently at both offices to 3 Nov 1979
- 2159t 26 Feb 1973 to Dec 1978 (transposed) A
 2159 26 Feb 1973 to 3 Nov 1979 (standard) A
- (a) Used at Canterbury (two dies) transposed, also transposed at six other offices in Canterbury area, and standard at Deal, Margate ("Thanet A" town die), Ramsgate (two dies, "Thanet B" town dies). Ended 11 March 1973 at Sandwich and 18 March 1973 at both Thanet offices. Used at Dover only on philatelic covers initially, but used regularly when second machine introduced, probably in 1976 (LP.932/t also in use)
- (b) Deal stopped stamping mail from March 1976
- (c) Changed to standard at all offices except Whitstable from about April 1976
- (d) Changed to transposed again at Dover June to July 1976, then standard again
- (e) Changed to standard at Whitstable from about Dec 1978

1975

For the first time there were generally no postal collections on 1 Jan so that slogans are not to be found with this date, and campaigns due to start on 1 Jan would start on 2 Jan instead. The same applies to some Bank Holidays (eg. 26 May, 25 Aug and 27 Dec in 1975 and the equivalent dates in following years). Special arrangements are occasionally made for philatelic covers on these dates.

2599t South of England Show 1708
13 March to 4 June C
Two dies used at Haywards Heath

With the large number of dies of the "Post Code" slogan in use throughout the country, there are, inevitably, minor differences in size and thickness of the lettering. Worthy of particular note are the dies in use in the Romford area. The lettering of the first and third lines is thinner than usual, and the second line is longer than usual, with the "e" of "the" under the "ER" of "REMEMBER", compared with the normal type 941 (see illustrations).

- 3244 Be properly addressed 2156
5 Nov 1979 to date to be announced (standard) A
- 3244t 5 Nov 1979 to date to be announced (transposed) B
- About 1250 dies used, generally replacing the previous designs of "Post Code" slogan in regions of England, except London region, and Wales from 5 Nov 1979, Scotland from 12 Nov 1979 and *N.Ireland from 26 Nov 1979. General use in London region was from 4 Feb 1980 (numbers included in the 1250 total) but some offices had started from 5 Nov 1979 (London Mount Pleasant, Bromley, Watford for example) but some of these then withdrew the slogan again before correct introduction on 4 Feb 1980, and most of East London started the slogan from early Dec 1979. Mostly used standard, but used transposed at various times (used standard as well at most) at London SE1, Cheltenham, Liverpool, Llandrindod Wells, Orpington, Redditch, Rhyl ("Clwyd 2" town die), Wincanton, Worksop, and probably at other offices from time to time

Due to the large number of dies, probably manufactured by different engravers, there are differences in thickness of lettering and slight differences in sizes of lettering

Early uses :

Many offices in NW region used the slogan from late-Oct 1979, earliest seen 17 Oct from Ashton-under-Lyne, and also used early at Great Yarmouth and Newcastle-upon-Tyne; also seen 13 Nov from Banbridge (correct start date 26 Nov) as well as the London region early uses mentioned above

 About 97 dies used, approx ten in each of ten regions; at some offices, such as Bath, the slogan started late, see
 LP.1955, and at least at Epsom the slogan was soon replaced, in Epsom's case from 18 Jan 1980. Over the next 3-4 years the slogan gradually dropped out of use as dies became worn or damaged, see details in "Slogan Postmarks of the Eighties"
 Earliest early use : 22 Dec 1979 Newry

TWENTY YEARS OF FIRST DAY POSTMARKS

by Brian Pask & Colin G. Peachey

The story and details of First Day postmarks as used by the British Post Office 1963 - 1983

Published by British Postmark Society

The definitive story of "First Day of Issue" postmarks of the British Post Office for the first 20 years of their use from 7 May 1963 is told in this book. It is the result of many years diligent work, and it includes not just the pictorial postmarks themselves (shown in most "First Day Cover" books), but the strength of this book is that it gives details of all the 200 or so post offices in the UK which regularly use these postmarks on stamp issue days. These are not to be confused with the many "Special Event" postmarks also in use on stamp issue days - these are shown in the companion volume, see page 20.

Fully illustrated, and with the whole story of these postmarks from 1963 to mid-1983, as well as a full index designed to permit the reader to track the usage of any First Day postmarks at specific towns.

104 pages, size A5, with two-colour card cover.

Exceptional Uses

This list details general slogans used exceptionally outside the official periods of use, excluding early and late uses (which are listed with the relevant entry in the General Slogan lists). We include those which started in the 1970's but also include E.70, E.71, E.73/t which continued after the end of 1969

1968

- Licenses 117
- E.70 Used at Ashton-under-Lyne from 20 Dec 1968 to Sep 1971, but interrupted for "Census", "Lions International" and "Mental Handicap" slogans in 1971. Also used with Mossley and Stalybridge town dies, earliest seen Aug 1970 B
- E.71 Used at Bletchley from 20 Dec 1968 to 6 Oct 1971, interrupted approx 11 to 24 Dec 1969 B
- Both E.70 and E.71 followed late use from Oct 1968, then "Cards in bundles" slogan 11 to 19 Dec 1968

1969

- National Savings Tall Oaks 718
- E.73t Used at Bathgate from about 8 June to 22 Aug 1969 (transposed) D
- E.73 Used at Perth from 9 June 1969 to 9 Feb 1970 (standard) C
- These both follow late use from March (both transposed, see no.1204t), then "Swim Week" 2 to 7 June 1969

The Queen's Silver Jubilee Appeal 1946
E.148 Used at Edgware from about 22 Dec 1977 to 10 Jan 1978

1978

A Happy Christmas The Post Office 1278
E.149 Used at Redhill ("MLO Redhill" town die) 8 to 9 Jan, Enfield 16 Jan, and Lincoln (D) 31 Jan

E.150

Remember the Postcode 627
E.150 Used at Witham from Feb 1978, then town die changed to "Chelmsford" from July 1979 and continued to Oct 1979. This is listed as exceptional since dies of this design were issued in the 1967-8 period before Chelmsford area was "postcoded", and it is therefore something of a mystery as to how this die came to be at Witham

Voters Lists 98A
E.151 Used at Lancaster & Morecambe (B) from 30 May to 3 June

Datapost D 1978
E.152 One die used at Chester with both Chester and "Clwyd 1" town dies from 12 June to about 5 Dec. This exceptional use followed the "Disabled" slogan which in turn followed the late use of "Datapost D" no.2991 after 31 March

Collect through Philatelic Bureau 1988
E.153 Used at Motherwell & Wishaw (A) from 14 Aug to 30 Sep. This followed "A phone saves time & money", no.3093, used at "Motherwell & Wishaw A" 7 to 11 Aug, which in turn followed late use of "Collect through Philatelic Bureau" no.3003 after 7 July

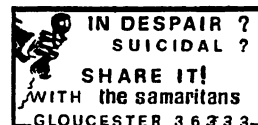

Look after yourself 2000
E.154 Used at Bangor Gwynedd from about 25 Oct to 5 Dec (though it may have been used continuously from 30 Sep, and this period of use would then be a "late use"), and again from Jan to Nov 1979

Voters Lists 98
E.155 Used from late-Dec 1978 to dates as follows:
Aylesbury (to Jan 1979, see also E.156t)
Folkestone (to Feb 1979)
Middlesbrough ("Cleveland" town die) (to March 1979, see also E.156)
Lincoln (to May 1979, see also E.156)

Voters Lists 98A
E.156 Used standard from late-Dec 1978 to dates as follows:
Coventry, Portadown, Rochester ("Medway" town die)(all to Feb 1979)
Barnsley (2 dies), Middlesbrough ("Cleveland" town dies, 2 dies, see also E.155) (both to March 1979)
Lincoln (see also E.155, to May 1979)
Boston (still in use early 1980)
E.156t Used transposed at Aylesbury late-Dec 1978 to Jan 1979 (see also E.155)

The note after E.98/99t applies here also, for concurrent late uses see nos 3121-3125t

1979

Despair ? Phone The Samaritans 1816
E.157 Used at Gloucester with "Gloucestershire" town die from 7 to 9 Aug

Voters Lists 98 E
E.158

Voters Lists 98C E
E.159 One die of each design used at Watford about 3 to 10 Sep, then E.158 only again from about 26 Sep to 5 Oct

Voters Lists 98A
E.160 Used at Liverpool (J2) from 27 Oct to 1 Nov

A Happy Christmas The Post Office 1278
E.161 Used at Tamworth on 14 Nov

Collect British Stamps 2159
E.162 Used at Haverfordwest on 18 Dec, then withdrawn prior to correct introduction on 31 Dec

For illustrations of "Voters Lists" designs, types 98, 98A, 98C see page 151

Local Publicity slogans are defined on page 2. The listing on the next page is a continuation of that in "Collecting Slogan Postmarks" (see page 21), but it starts in mid-1969 since that is where our previous 1970 volume started.

An Important Notice for all Postmark Collectors

British Postmark Bulletin

For collectors of special handstamps and postmark slogans, the British Post Office produces a publication entitled: British Postmark Bulletin.

The British Postmark Bulletin published fortnightly – 25 issues per year – contains a wealth of information about forthcoming special postmarks.

The dates of use and full wording of all special cancellations are quoted, as well as details of the offices to be used together with the locations of posting boxes and the reposting addresses. It also contains information about first day of issue postmarking arrangements for all British special stamp issues.

The three rhyming "Postcode - self-grip wrench" slogans LP.1294t to LP.1296t were generally used two at a time in Newport's ALF machine. The exception to this was LP.1294t, which officially should not have been used between 1 Dec 1973 and 1 Feb 1974. However, all three slogans were used during this period. All town dies at Newport were changed to "Gwent" from 1 Jan 1973. This change applies to all four slogans LP.1293t to LP.1296t.

8 Maritime 'Slogans'

This section covers machine-impressed slogan-type marks applied to mail, civilian or forces, posted at sea, which received "Paquebot" or "Maritime" postmarks in accordance with Universal Postal Union regulations. See "Collecting Slogan Postmarks" for further details

CIVILIAN MAIL

At most offices a "Paquebot" handstamp is used, or a "Paquebot" rubber stamp is used in addition to an otherwise normal postmark, and we list here only the two "slogans" known to be in use in the 1970's (though we include the complete list of offices). "Paquebot" town dies are used at Grays, Southampton and Weymouth (but not always) and normal town dies are otherwise used :

Type P. 3

This type exists in several varieties of lettering, probably due to the dies being manufactured individually over a period of many years. Some offices are known to have used more than one die

FORCES MAIL

The following machine marks were applied to Forces mail posted at sea, the "dumb" town die being used to avoid indicating the port of entry to the UK, though normal town dies appear to have come back into use as well from about 1967

"Dumb" town die but thought to have F. 4A been applied at London, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Plymouth and Portsmouth at various times from 1943 to date. Valuation C to D

MARITIME

Type F. 4A

The "dumb" town die was applied with F. 4B this revised design at London approx 1957-67, then it was replaced by the normal town die as illustrated. Also seen used, with normal town dies, at

|          |         |

| Plymouth | 1969-72 |

Valuation C ("dumb" or London), E (others)

Type F. 4B

The Forces Postal Service operates wherever British Forces are serving, in the UK or overseas, and stamp cancelling machines with slogans are occasionally used. For security reasons the town die shows "Field Post Office" with a code number, or BAPO (British Army Post Office) or BFPO (British Forces Post Office), these two both being used at RE Postal Depot, Mill Hill

This section was initially included in "Slogan Postmarks of the UK 1917-1969" (published 1974) and as a result of the reports we have since received we take this opportunity to relist (and renumber) the whole section

Channel Islands & Isle of Man Slogans

This section, which lists all slogans used in Guernsey and Jersey from Postal Independence on 1 Oct 1969, and similarly all used in the Isle of Man from 5 July 1973, includes both General and Local Publicity slogans

Guernsey and Jersey

Type M.11

Type LP.220

First Day of Issue M.11
 M.11/t 1 Oct 1969 to 1 March 1979 Valuation see below
 This slogan was used on large mailings of First Day Covers of most of the Guernsey and Jersey commemorative stamps from Postal Independence, the first of which was Jersey's Postal Independence issue of 1 Oct 1969 (standard). It was used transposed on some later issues (e.g. used both standard and transposed on Jersey's "25th Anniversary of Liberation" issue on 9 May 1970), but from 1972 was replaced in Guernsey by G.7t. In Jersey it continued in use, on most or all stamp issue dates (transposed) and was used on collectors' covers on request.

Valuation - D, but possibly E if on complete cover, even though only the lowest value of the new stamps was usually used

Guernsey

Guernsey Brit Holiday Abroad LP.220
 LP388t 1 Nov 1966 to 12 Dec 1969 B
 Town die changed to "Guernsey Post Office" from 1 Oct 1969; slogan discontinued from Dec 1969 in Guernsey Post Office's attempt not to deface its new definitive stamps with heavy cancellations

As the 1971 Postal Strike did not spread to the Channel Islands, their slogans continued in use without interruption.

Type G. 1

Type G. 2

Type G. 3

Type G. 4

Obesity shortens life G. 1
 G. 1t 26 May 1970 to 25 Jan 1971 E
 Used only on special Medical Mailings on various dates within this period; the usage of this slogan was not unlike M.11/t (see above) but not restricted to stamp issue "First Days", and the slogan is best collected on complete cover

Stamp out overweight G. 2
 G. 2t 1 Feb 1971 to Dec 1972 E
 Usage similar to G. 1t, and slogan only used on various dates within this period

Royal Liver Friendly Society G. 3
 G. 3t 12 to 18 May 1971 D

First Class Mail G. 4
 G. 4t 21 May to 1 July 1971 D
 Applied to all mail leaving the island

Type IM.1

First Day of Issue IM. 1
 IM.1 5 July 1973 (standard) Used at Ramsey F
 IM.1t 5 July, 4 Aug, 4 Sep 1973, and 22 Nov 1974 and 12 March 1976 (transp.) E
 Used firstly at Douglas (2) and Ramsey on three 1973 stamp issue dates (transposed at Ramsey on 4 Aug & 4 Sep). Unlike the British FO "First day" slogan and the similar Channel Islands ones, see M.11/t, it replaced the normal slogan for the whole day and was therefore used on all mail regardless of whether the letter bore the new stamps issued on that day. The slogan was also used on bulk mailings of First Day Covers at Douglas only on 22 Nov 1974 and 12 March 1976.

Manx Grand Prix 273
 IM.2t 5 July to 1 Sep 1973 (but see IM.1t) C

Miscellaneous Slogans

1963 to date

- M.11/t First Day of Issue M.11
(thin lettering)
- I. "First Days" 7 May to 3 Dec 1963 E
 Used on the first day of issue of new adhesive stamps on items posted in special posting boxes at selected offices and on GPO First Day Covers
- II. From 1964 generally replaced by E
 "First Day of Issue" handstamps but still used on a similar basis to I. above on 8 June 1964 (regional 2½d adhesive issue - standard) and on 7 Feb 1966 (regional 4d adhesives, standard but transposed at Aberystwyth and both standard and transposed at Guernsey)
- III. From 23 April 1964 to date, the slogan D
 has been chiefly used on large mailings of First Day Covers, usually bearing only the lowest value of the new stamp issue. First use transposed was at Southampton on 5 Aug 1964, and since used both standard and transposed. Later continued in use alongside M.21/t and M.22

Type M.11

Type M.11A

- M.11A/t First Day of Issue M.11A D
 First used at Bethlehem Llandeilo (transposed), this town die probably used in Llanelli machine, for the Christmas 1969 issue. Dies of this design were used alongside M.11/t, and first use standard was at Liverpool on 16 June 1971, and since used, both standard and transposed, at Bethlehem (only to 1976), Liverpool and Paddington W2, and, later, at Bristol and Haywards Heath; as M.11/t, later used alongside M.21/t and M.22

Type M.14

1963-1970

- M.12 Father Christmas and reindeer M.12 E
 Used in red each December from 1963 to 1970 on envelopes containing Christmas cards despatched by the Post Office to children who wrote to Father Christmas at fictional addresses such as Snowland, Reindeerland etc which could not be delivered to actual countries. See next page for illustration, and see also M.20.

1966-1971

- M.14 Posted at the Post Office Tower M.14 D
 19 May 1966 to 5 May 1968 (standard)
- M.14t Posted at the Post Office Tower D
 6 May 1968 to 31 Oct 1971 (transposed)
 Two dies initially, later one die, used at London W1 on mail posted at the Post Office Tower

Type M.17

Type M.18

1970

- Pan Am Boeing 747 M.17
 M.18t This mark was used to backstamp covers carried on the inaugural New York to London flight of the Boeing 747 "Jumbo" jet plane. Apparently 50,000 items were carried (though the item appears scarcer than this number would suggest) and were taken from London to Edinburgh to be so stamped

- KLM Airmail Flight M.18
 M.19 This mark was used on 6 July 1970 to backstamp special covers carried on an anniversary flight to commemorate the first airmail flight from Amsterdam to London in 1920. The stamping was carried out at Hounslow but the quantity is not known. The slogan appears to have been applied inverted i.e. upright but applied at the bottom edge of the envelopes, which accounts for the protection bars (as normally found on transposed slogans) appearing on the left instead of the right

Type M.12

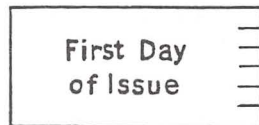

Type M.12A

1971-1979

- Father Christmas and Reindeer M.12A
 M.20 Used as M.12, but slogan redrawn without lines at right, and used each December from 1971 onwards

Type M.19

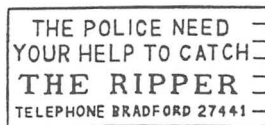

Type M.20

1976-1979

- First Day of Issue M.19
 M.21/t New design first used at Tunbridge Wells on 24 Nov 1976 (standard), apparently a replacement for dies of types M.11/M.11A, and used similarly for large postings of First Day Covers. First used transposed at Liverpool on 31 May 1978, and again on 6 June and 11 July 1979; for similar design see type IM.1 in Isle of Man section

1978-1979

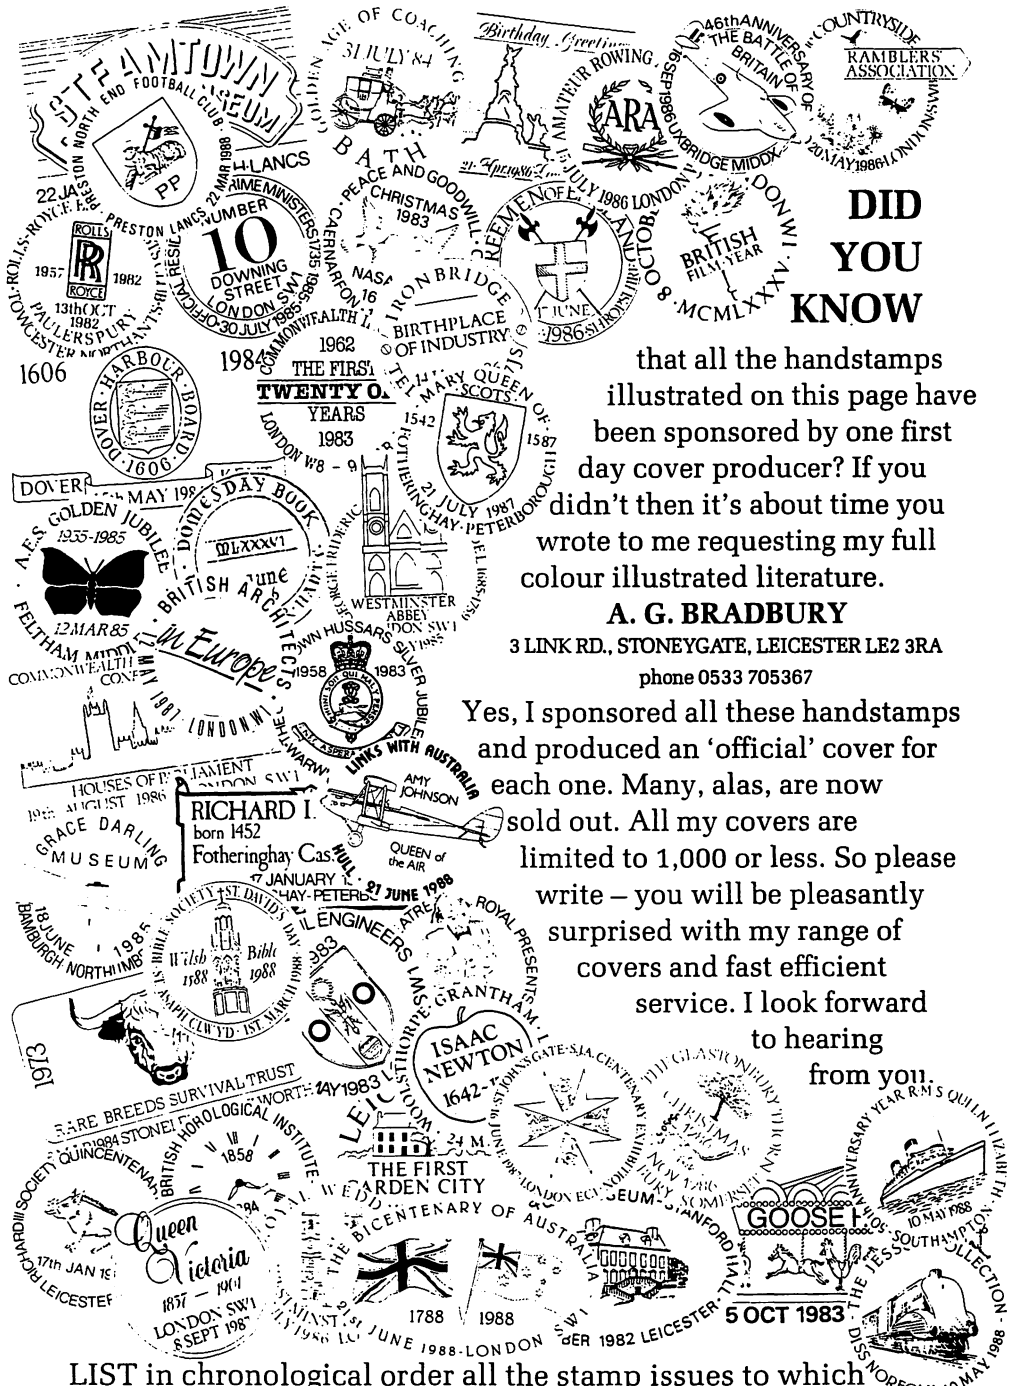

- First Day of Issue M.20
 M.22 A further new design, and a breakaway from the traditional "envelope" design of types M.11/M.11A and M.19, was first used at Bournemouth-Poole (standard) on 31 May 1978, and again on 22 Nov 1978 and 21 Nov 1979

Type M.21 (Leeds)

1979-1980

- The Ripper M.21
 M.23t In order to gain maximum impact for this appeal for help, but within a confined locality, two dies of this slogan were applied to gas bill envelopes at Leeds and Newcastle-upon-Tyne (one die each), over the existing "printed serial" on the envelopes. The slogan was impressed transposed, at Leeds in black and with no town die (as illustrated above) and at Newcastle-upon-Tyne in red with a dated town die. See "Collecting Slogan Postmarks" for further details and for an illustration of this latter item. Stamping is understood to have taken place between Oct 1979 and Jan 1980.

DID YOU KNOW

that all the handstamps illustrated on this page have been sponsored by one first day cover producer? If you didn't then it's about time you wrote to me requesting my full colour illustrated literature.

Yes, I sponsored all these handstamps and produced an 'official' cover for each one. Many, alas, are now sold out. All my covers are limited to 1,000 or less. So please write – you will be pleasantly surprised with my range of covers and fast efficient service. I look forward to hearing from you.

LIST in chronological order all the stamp issues to which these postmarks relate and I will send you a free first day cover.

Index

Scope and Basis of Classification

This Index includes all slogan postmarks used in the United Kingdom from 1917 to the end of 1979; that is all the slogans listed in this series of publications. The Index comprises two Sections:

General: lists by legend slogans of international, national or regional interest, irrespective of whether they were used at one or at many offices; also slogans whose legends do not immediately suggest that they were used at one place only. This section includes a separate tabulation of Postcode slogans by Postcode areas.

Local: lists by place of use Local Publicity slogans and any General slogans which advertise local events and local anniversaries; also slogans of a more general nature (eg Don't Hoard Medicines) used at one office only. Slogans used at offices remote from the place advertised (eg Ventnor slogan at Birmingham, and Falmouth slogan at Sheffield) are also listed under the place advertised. With the exception of the early Postcode slogans which specifically mentioned Norwich, Postcode slogans are not included in this Section.

For brevity, the t indicating transposed has been omitted from the catalogue numbers in the Index.

... and lastly, a Thank You !

Cyril and Colin take this opportunity to thank their respective wives Joyce and Valerie for their forbearance during the months of preparation of this catalogue, and to thank their respective daughters Heather and Julia for their invaluable assistance in the make-up of the book.

And Colin's son Neil would also like a mention !
